ex-servicemen from the American Legion, La Societe 40 & 8, Catholic War Veterans, Marine Corps League, Veterans of Foreign Wars and their Auxiliary. Wreaths were placed at the tablet, and taps were sounded as part of the memorial program. (Freeman photo).

Avoids Politics During Rest

Rockefellers Are Away From World in Andes

By JAMES DEVLIN
CHIRGUA, Venezuela (AP)—New York Gov.-elect Nelson A. Rockefeller and his wife arranged a horseback trip into a 5,000-foot mountain range near his hacienda here today.

Rockefeller flew here Sunday for about a week's rest from his strenuous campaign.

He is avoiding politics as much as possible during his vacation. His hacienda has no telephone

Hurd Returning As Budget Chief Under Rockefeller

NEW YORK (AP)—Gov.-elect Nelson A. Rockefeller's first administrative appointment returns Dr. T. Norman Hurd of Cornell University to the office of state budget director.

Hurd, 48, held the post from 1950 to 1954 under Republican Gov. Thomas E. Dewey. He is agricultural economics professor at Cornell in Ithaca.

Names Three Others
Hurd's appointment and three others were announced here Monday by Rockefeller's office. The Republican governor-elect and his wife are on vacation in Venezuela.

Dr. William J. Roman of New York University was named secretary to the governor.

Francis A. Jamieson, public relations adviser to the Rockefeller brothers, was made special assistant to the governor. Jamieson was director of information for the U. S. office of Inter-American Affairs when the governor-elect was coordinator of the office.

Amper Press Secretary
Richard Amper, of Great Neck, N. Y., a former newspaperman, was appointed press secretary. Hurd will be assisted by another former Dewey aide, Mrs. Edgar W. Martin of Colonie, as a re-

Mayor Commends Fagan for Service As Acting Chief

Mayor Edwin F. Radel in a letter to Sgt. Francis J. Fagan, dated yesterday, commended him for his work as acting police chief in the absence of Deputy Chief Robert F. Murphy, who returned to duty yesterday after being exonerated of charges in a departmental trial.

The mayor wrote: "I should like to express in the name of the Board of Police Commissioners of the City of Kingston our sincere gratification to you for the splendid job you did for us, the department, and the City of Kingston, as acting chief in the absence from active duty of the ranking officer Robert Murphy.

"During the time you were acting chief of the department, you displayed a keen insight in police operations, which, I feel, was reflected all the way down through the personnel of the entire department.

"The institution of several modifications of the forces, in first aid, and other necessary equipment, came about with your assistance and foresight.

"A copy of this letter will appear in your service record in the Kingston Police Department as a commendation to you for the job you did as acting chief for the department."

connections with the outside world, although a few lines link various buildings on his 6,500-acre property.

The nearest full-scale telephone and telegraph communications are 135 miles away in Caracas.

Few Knew of Spot
The Rockefeller trip to Venezuela was announced only after he won the election last Tuesday and few knew he had this remote hideaway in the Andes Mountains.

His family has business interests in Venezuela, mostly in dairy and supermarket. Standard Oil is active here, but the Rockefellers no longer participate in its management although still owning stock.

Sitting beside the swimming pool on 2,500-foot Monte Sacro Monday, Rockefeller looked at a 5,000-foot mountain range some miles distant and said "I've never been up there. Tomorrow I'm going to do it on horseback." He said his wife would accompany him.

The distant mountains were green with trees and grass. They had a fairly gentle slope that has been climbed before on horseback by members of his farm staff.

Takes Reporters on Tour
The Republican governor-elect, who takes office in January, took visiting reporters on a tour of his hacienda.

The setting includes a 12-room ranch house with a red tiled roof. It has breath-taking views in all directions. There is a farmed valley 500 feet below and a surrounding circle of mountains.

"The most beautiful spot in the world," Rockefeller said. "Now you can see why I wanted to come down after the campaign."

He met newsmen in a sport shirt and Bermuda shorts. The reporters had driven from Maracay, about halfway to Caracas. He invited his guests to take a swim.

He spotted somebody in a suit and necktie. "Why the necktie?" he joked. "Don't be a sissy."

Finds Trunks for Them
The one-story house centers around a 30-foot swimming pool. The newsmen didn't bring bathing suits but Rockefeller found about a half dozen pairs of swimming trunks.

After a swim he donned slacks and a sports shirt with a pattern of elephants, symbol of the Republican party. He called it his victory shirt.

Rockefeller talked in a friendly manner during a buffet lunch but avoided political subjects.

He did say, however, he had talked with New York City Mayor Robert Wagner and Democratic State Comptroller Arthur Levitt prior to leaving New York. He said they promised cooperation with his administration and expressed pleasure at this.

After lunch he took his visitors

Connolly People to See Esopus Board on Blasts

Blasting operations at the Callanan Road Improvement Company quarry at Mingo Hollow, Town of Esopus, will be brought to the attention of the town board Wednesday evening at the regular session of the board, Supervisor Roger Mabie stated today.

Heavy blasts, set off at about three week intervals, have aroused the ire of residents of Connolly which is the community closest to the operation. Residents allege that serious damage is being done property in the community and will present this fact to the town Wednesday.

George Meehan, a resident of Connolly, allegedly suffered damage to his premises and several weeks ago wrote the Callanan company in regard to a claim for damages. Rejection of his claim by the insurance company carrying the Callanan company insurance resulted in his writing to the company, to Governor Harriman and to Supervisor Mabie in an effort to gain relief.

At a meeting between Supervisor Mabie and Mr. Meehan at Connolly some time ago approximately 15 other residents of Connolly were present. At that meeting a possible reduction in the size of the blasts was discussed and the possibility of

Have Courage, Be Prepared: Sarnoff

WASHINGTON (AP)—Brig. Gen. David W. Sarnoff called on the nation today for courage, sacrifice and preparedness to face up to what he called the Communist campaign of bluster and blackmail.

"The American cause has become inseparable from the cause of all mankind," he said in an address prepared for Veterans Day services at the Tomb of the Unknowns in Arlington National Cemetery.

The ceremonies marked the first observance of the day since Unknowns of World War II and Korea were buried by the Unknown Soldier of World War I. The day marked the 40th anniversary of the World War I armistice, and the fifth observance of Veterans Day, established by Congress in 1954.

Sarnoff, chairman of the board of the Radio Corp. of America, recalled the sacrifices made by American fighting men in those wars.

Tries Bank Job Across From Cops FBI Holding Pair In Robbery Try

SPRING VALLEY, N. Y. (AP)—A nonchalant would-be robber tried to get money from a teller with a bomb threat Monday night in a bank across the street from local police headquarters.

The robber surrendered after he learned he had been identified and an alarm was out for him. A friend who allegedly coached him was seized a short time later.

Both men were turned over to FBI agents who took them to New York City for arraignment.

The scene of the attempted robbery was a branch of the Rockland National Bank. Across the street—100 feet away and separated by a railroad track—is police headquarters situated in an abandoned and rebuilt Erie Railroad station.

Rockland Police Account
Police of this Rockland County community, a New York City suburb, gave this account:

Frederick J. Peterson, 29, of Willow Grove Road, Stony Point, N. Y., walked up to a teller at the bank's drive-in window at 6:30 p. m.

Peterson pushed through a small package and a note and told the teller, Nils Tomnesen, about 30: "This letter is for you."

Peterson walked away as the teller laid the package and note aside and started to serve the next person in line.

A moment later, the teller opened the note, which demanded money and said the package contained a bomb.

Teller Got License
The teller—by some coincidence—had noticed the license number of a car in which Peterson drove off alone. The teller telephoned to police headquarters, the ownership of the car was traced and an alarm was sent out for Peterson.

At 11 p. m. police received a telephone call from Peterson, who asked, "Are you looking for me?" Told that he was wanted, Peter-

Complaint May Go to UN

Jordan Officials Meet Over UAR Air Incident

AMMAN (AP)—Jordan today was expected to complain to the United Nations about what King Hussein called an attempt to kill or capture him in a flight over Syria.

The Jordan Parliament was called in an emergency session to hear the retaliatory steps promised by the young king. He raced home Monday with United Arab Republic jet fighters in pursuit two hours after taking off for a vacation in Europe.

Hussein Is Hero
While the U.A.R. was inclined to play down the incident Hussein emerged as a hero in the eyes of many of his people. Jordanians mixed wild celebrations of joy with bitter demonstrations against the U.A.R.

Relations between the king and President Nasser's U.A.R. worsened just when there were indications the two Arab leaders were about to patch up their feud.

Some officials in Jordan reportedly viewed the incident as an attempt to kidnap the 23-year-old king and force him to sign his abdication. There was no confirmation of this theory, however.

Hussein charged the jets tried to force his plane down.

King Was Co-Pilot
Hussein, himself a flier, was riding as co-pilot. His pilot said the two MIGs were trying to get into position to fire at the Jordanian plane all the way back.

Immediately after his return Hussein accused the Syrian pilots of violating international law by intruding in Jordanian air space.

The charge was made in a broadcast to Jordan's 1,500,000 people, many of whom favor Nasser.

$56 Error Reveals Big Loss

Mary Doyle to Get Hearing Nov. 12

Mary Doyle, 29, of 222 Greenkill Avenue, faced City Judge Aaron E. Klein today on a charge dealing with the alleged theft of approximately $12,000 from The Mohican Co., 57 John Street, while she was employed there as a bookkeeper.

Preliminary hearing was set for tomorrow after Joseph Avis, her counsel, moved to vacate the warrant on which she was arrested yesterday afternoon. It was executed by Officers Leonard Ellsworth and Edward Edwards. The charge is first degree grand larceny.

Started by $56 Error
It is charged that the money was taken through manipulation of books between last January and a date just prior to the arrest. Authorities were told that an error of $56 recently brought to light the alleged larger discrepancy.

Bail was fixed at $2,500 cash or $5,000 property, and was expected to be raised.

Attorney Avis, in moving to vacate the warrant, held that the officers failed to bring the defendant before the nearest magistrate, and that she was held four hours incommunicado without proper opportunity to obtain counsel.

Hearing Is Tomorrow
Judge Klein denied the motion and set the date for preliminary hearing, which he indicated will be held tomorrow before Special City Judge Arthur B. Ewig.

Vincent Bruck, district manager for the company, said he discovered what appeared to be an error about two weeks ago, and auditors were called in to go over the books. Then, what is alleged to be clever manipulation of the books, was reported.

Employed by the company several years ago, she returned there in December, 1957, and was employed for a short time in another capacity before she became bookkeeper, a spokesman for management said.

Attorney John E. Gotelli appeared for the district attorney's office.

New Brochure Is Ready on City

Copies of a new brochure, published by the Kingston Area Chamber of Commerce, are now available. The new edition has just been received.

In making the announcement today, Chamber President Robert L. Sabin gave a brief description of the reprint. The cover contains a large picture of the statue of Clinton, located in Academy Park. The back cover refers to 1959 as New York's Year of History and invites everyone to visit Kingston for the Hudson-Champlain Celebration.

The first inside spread consists of a new special photograph of the Kingston-Rhinecliff Bridge and an aerial picture of the IBM plant. The page title reads, "A Proud Heritage—A Glorious Future."

The center fold contains an area map, a brief history of Kingston and considerable information of general interest. A list of 17 area places of special

Probers Go Through Ruins Of Plane for Mishap Cause

NEW YORK (AP)—Investigators picked among the flame-ravaged ruins of a giant cargo plane today for clues to the cause of its spectacular, fiery ground collision with a parked passenger craft at Idlewild Airport.

The 54-ton Seaboard and Western cargo ship bolted out of control during a takeoff Monday. Resisting the pilot's efforts to check it, the plane skipped and skidded in flames across the busy field and crashed explosively into a fully-fueled passenger plane about to load.

Eight persons suffered minor injuries, most of them while fighting the fire. A disaster was thwarted by a coincidence of timing and the swift action of firefighters.

The cargo ship momentarily threatened hundreds of lives as it careened toward the airport's crowded domestic terminal building. Only the parked plane halted its rush toward the terminal.

Even after the crash, the terminal remained in danger and was evacuated as fuel-fed flames gutted the wreckage.

Raymond A. Nored, president of Seaboard and Western, said: "We are most thankful that no one was seriously injured in this accident. At this time we do not know the cause. We are investigating the matter thoroughly in cooperation with the Civil Aeronautics Board (CAB) to determine the facts."

Capt. Ralph Neary, 38, of Stony Brook, who was in charge of the cargo plane but not at the controls, said:

"We were just taking off when the airplane swerved sharply to the left. What caused it we don't know as yet."

After the collision, Neary said, (Continued on Page 6, Col. 7)

TRAGEDY AVERTED BY 20 MINUTES—Smoke billows from the burning wreckage of a Seaboard and Western cargo plane and a Trans-Canada airliner after the cargo plane blew a tire and careened off a runway at New York's Idlewild Airport and crashed into the parked passenger plane. The five-man crew of the cargo plane escaped injury. One of two stewardesses aboard the second plane was slightly burned. The stewardesses were waiting to greet the first passengers who would have begun boarding the airliner in 20 minutes. (NEA Telephoto)

Gotham Hunters Face Murder in Caretaker's Death

BREWSTER, N. Y. (EP)—Two New York City hunters were charged today by police with the murder of a caretaker who caught them poaching game twice.

Martin Anzalone, 28, and Mario Sesta, 17, both of the Bronx, were held for first degree murder in the killing Monday near Patterson, N. Y., of Clarence Smith, 29.

Carrado Sesta, Mario's father, was also held by police on an open charge. They said he was present but unarmed when the other two fired at Smith with their shotguns.

Anzalone and the younger Sesta were fined recently for poaching on the estate of the Cushman baking family. Police said Smith, a deputy game warden on the well-stocked property, caught them Monday, refused a $10 bribe and declared he would turn them in as second-offenders.

Investigating the shooting, police checked through local records of poachers and found the names and addresses of Anzalone and Young Sesta.

They relayed their suspicions to Bronx police who arrested Anzalone at 2 a. m. in his home. A rabbit was cooking on the stove. Ten guns were found in Anzalone's apartment. Detectives picked up the Sestas a little later at their home.

Smith's body was found by his wife.

A group of children from West Park Orphanage and nuns from Benedictine Hospital also were present. The children's choir and members of the church choir sang during the Mass. During the bereavement hundreds called at the family residence to express words of sympathy to the members of the family and to offer prayers in her behalf. Nuns from several convents in Kingston and West Park visited the home. The Ulster County Women's Democratic Club called and at 8 p. m. Sunday members of St. Peter's Rosary Society recited the Holy Rosary under the direction of Father Ostermann. A delegation from Rapid Hose Company No. 1 also called Sunday night. Clergy who called were Msgr. Martin J. Drury, Msgr. Stephen P. Connelly, Fathers Ostermann, Reynolds and Carey. Many beautiful floral pieces and scores of Mass cards were placed near the casket as a tribute to the high esteem in which Miss Rice was held in the community. Burial took place in the family mausoleum in St. Peter's Cemetery where Msgr. Drury, assisted by Fathers Ostermann, Carey and Reynolds gave the final absolution.

Modena

MODENA—A sermon on the topic "Willing But Weak" will be delivered at Sunday worship services in the Modena and Clintondale Methodist Churches, the Rev. George Johnson, pastor.

Lester I. Arnold has been appointed chairman of the annual Ulster County Christmas Seal Sale, in the Town of Plattekill, which begins Friday and continues through December.

Mrs. Lillian Courter, held this position in the town over a period of many years, prior to her departure from this locality.

At a recent meeting of Plattekill Lions Club at Oddo House, near Clintondale, the guest speaker was Russell Hadden, personnel manager of the Federal Bearing Inc., Poughkeepsie.

During the business session, plans were made to distribute baskets to the needy at Thanksgiving. Russell Croce, Fred Fowler, Andrew Montrola are on the committee. Fowler will also assist with the Christmas party to be held for members and their families at the Oddo House, and a Valentine dance will be held in February.

Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Juckett of New Paltz were visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lester A. Wager Jr. and family recently.

Richard Coy has resumed employment in Poughkeepsie.

Joseph Daunt, who was a patient at the Kingston Hospital, following surgery, has returned to his home here and is convalescing.

Mrs. Harold Wager recently resumed her employment in Poughkeepsie.

George Matheisen, formerly employed at the Hotel Newburgh, is now chef at the Beau Rivage at Roseton.

Their combined ages total higher than any other known family in the Town of Plattekill.

Hunt for Girl Continues

PRESTON, Conn. (AP)—Searchers returned to the woods and streams today as the hunt continued for missing 11-year-old Diana Duffy.

The 78-pound girl who stands 3½ feet tall, disappeared last Friday from the Preston home of Mrs. Walter Duffy, her grandmother. The girl lived with her grandmother during the week and joined Mrs. Frank Duffy, her school-teacher mother, in Alton, R. I., on weekends.

About 200 volunteers joined state police searchers today in combing heavily wooded areas while others used boats to search the Thames River and numerous ponds and lakes which adjoin the area. A state police helicopter took to the air for the second day in a row.

Halt of Berlin Four-Power Rule Will Mean Crisis

By THOMAS P. WHITNEY
AP Foreign News Analyst

If Nikita Khrushchev really means what he says about abrogating four-power rule in Berlin and freedom of transport between West Berlin and West Germany, there's going to be a new and dangerous international crisis.

The Western powers stood up to the Soviet Union 10 years ago on this issue and forced a Russian backdown with the successful airlift.

Words Plain Enough

So long as the Russians and their East German satellites only talk about blockading Berlin things will be all right. But if they try actually to interfere with Western control over West Berlin or transport and communications between West Germany and West Berlin, there will be real trouble.

And this time, in contrast to the Berlin blockade, the United States, France and Britain could count on the full support of a powerful West Germany in any countermeasures.

What Khrushchev said at the Polish-Russian friendship rally in the Lenin Stadium in Moscow Monday was plain enough.

He said four-power rule in Berlin should be ended. He said the agreements under which the West has unhindered transport and communication rights between West Germany and West Berlin are obsolete and that the Communists should free themselves from them. He said the West should deal with East Germany directly on questions concerning East Berlin and stressed that the Soviet Union would consider an attack on East Germany as an attack on the Soviet Union.

Sounds Menacing

This sounds menacing. If Khrushchev is really serious, then it would follow that the Russians will formally denounce four-power rule in Berlin and the agreements on which it is based, that the East Germans will interfere with surface and air transport into West Berlin and that the Soviet Union would regard any action of force by the West to break a blockade as an act of war.

The catch here is that, as Khrushchev no doubt knows, this would mean World War III. It seems questionable that he intends to start the world conflagration, at least in this way.

The West promptly let it be known that any Communist trouble over Berlin will be met with the same firmness shown at Quemoy.

The U. S. State Department bluntly rejected Khrushchev's proposal. A spokesman quoted recent U. S. statements of readiness to fight for West Berlin.

Modena

MODENA—A sermon on the topic "Willing But Weak" will be delivered at Sunday worship services in the Modena and Clintondale Methodist Churches, the Rev. George Johnson, pastor.

Lester I. Arnold has been appointed chairman of the annual Ulster County Christmas Seal Sale, in the Town of Plattekill, which begins Friday and continues through December.

Mrs. Lillian Courter, held this position in the town over a period of many years, prior to her departure from this locality.

At a recent meeting of Plattekill Lions Club at Oddo House, near Clintondale, the guest speaker was Russell Hadden, personnel manager of the Federal Bearing Inc., Poughkeepsie.

During the business session, plans were made to distribute baskets to the needy at Thanksgiving. Russell Croce, Fred Fowler, Andrew Montrola are on the committee. Fowler will also assist with the Christmas party to be held for members and their families at the Oddo House, and a Valentine dance will be held in February.

Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Juckett of New Paltz were visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lester A. Wager Jr. and family recently.

Richard Coy has resumed employment in Poughkeepsie.

Joseph Daunt, who was a patient at the Kingston Hospital, following surgery, has returned to his home here and is convalescing.

Guidance Service, Counseling Major Education Needs

ANDREW A. DALY

The Freeman prints today another in a series of replies to the question, "What is the greatest challenge in education today?"

It comes from Andrew A. Daly, manager of the department of education at the local IBM plant. The series is being offered as a public service in connection with National Education Week, Nov. 9-16.

Daly's statement:

"It seems to me we must improve the opportunities and facilities for young people of college age and the teachers. The most critical bottleneck to the expansion and improvement of education in the United States is the mounting shortage of excellent teachers. All school systems should also strengthen their guidance and counseling services. In addition, the colleges in order to handle twice as many students by 1970, existing institutions will have to be expanded and new ones created."

Those attending were Mr. and Mrs. Albert Wright of Ohioville; Mr. and Mrs. Vernon B. Wager, Arnold Wager, Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Arrasate, Mrs. Lena Arrasate, and Gene Arrasate, all of Plattekill.

Mrs. Wager is the former Mildred Wright of Ohioville.

Local members of the Ulster County Volunteer Firemen's Association will attend a meeting to be held Tuesday evening, Nov. 18 at the High Falls Firehouse.

The annual convention date of the association has been set July 23-24-25, at Rosendale.

Members of the Forest Road Plattekill 4-H Club were in charge of the special table decorations at the baked ham supper served Saturday evening in Plattekill Grange Hall. Installation of officers was held.

Benedictine Has Plans to Open Own Laboratory

Proposed establishment by the Benedictine Hospital of its own laboratory will be discussed by the Board of Managers of the City of Kingston Laboratory Nov. 13, it was announced today.

The meeting, it was said, is called specifically "to discuss the impact on the 1959 budget" of the laboratory, of a communication received recently from Sister Benedictine, the hospital's administrator, to the effect that the hospital is considering establishing its own laboratory facilities.

This, it was indicated, could have considerable effect on the operation of the city laboratory.

Shortages Stand As Challenge To Schools Today

DR. EARL F. SOPER

In connection with National Education Week The Freeman is publishing a number of replies to the question, "What is the greatest challenge in education today?"

Dr. Earl F. Soper, superintendent of Kingston public schools, said today that "there are several crucial challenges to education."

"One is the problem of shortages — teachers, buildings and dollars. A second is education for American survival in possible world conflict. A third is the severe public apathy toward education. We can also include education for world citizenship."

"However, in my opinion the greatest American experiment in education has been the public school teaching 'all the children of all the people.' Today the problems mentioned above in reality challenge the survival of such a philosophy in favor of education for only the minority of the intellectually gifted."

The basic purpose of American Education Week, Nov. 9-16, is to make every American aware of the important role education plays in a democracy and to help him realize that good schools are his personal responsibility. The theme this year is "Report Card, U. S. A."

Would Expand GOP Leadership Jobs to Three

WASHINGTON (AP) — A counter proposal by Sen. Styles Bridges (R-NH) took some of the fire out of a growing revolt by the Senate's Republican liberals today.

With the liberals demanding a greater voice in Republican affairs, Bridges proposed to expand the GOP leadership jobs to three and include a liberal in one of the posts.

To Meet Ike, Nixon

The New Hampshire senator said in a telephone interview he will discuss his proposal with President Eisenhower and Vice President Nixon next month.

Bridges, who heads the GOP Policy Committee, announced also he will support a move to give Republican newcomers—as well as holdover liberals—at least one important committee assignment each.

In the past, new GOP senators have been relegated to membership on minor committees, with assignments made on a basis of strict seniority. Under the leadership of Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas, Democrats have modified the seniority custom to put each new member on at least one top flight committee.

If it is adopted, the Bridges proposal would give such new senators as Kenneth B. Keating of New York and Hugh Scott of Pennsylvania important posts at the beginning of their Senate careers.

Would Move Up Javits

It also would move up to more important committee jobs members like Sen. Jacob K. Javits of New York and Sen. Thurston B. Morton of Kentucky, who were elected two years ago.

The possibility of harvesting choice committee assignments seemed likely to ease some of the liberals' other complaints against the solidly conservative GOP Senate leadership.

Apparently lacking the votes to keep Sen. Everett Dirksen of Illinois from succeeding Sen. William F. Knowland as GOP leader, the liberals had been working quietly to pick off second place in the lineup. Their goal was to place one of their number in the group that confers weekly with Eisenhower on legislative matters.

It remains to be seen whether the liberals will settle for a third-string job without a fight.

Soviet Graduates Lack Qualities, US Educators Say

ITHACA, N. Y. (AP)—The chief weakness of Russian universities is their graduates, a panel of American educators reports.

The U. S. group, comprising heads of seven colleges and universities, recently completed a tour of Russian institutions of higher learning.

The American educators said in a report Monday that graduates of Soviet schools of higher learning were deficient in qualities needed for the progress of society and its members.

These qualities were defined as intellectual creativity and self-reliance and critical analysis.

Members of the American group were Deane W. Malott of Cornell University, Edward H. Litchfield, University of Pittsburgh; Harry D. Gideonse, Brooklyn College; T. Keith Glennan, Case Institute of Technology; Gaylord P. Harnwell, University of Pennsylvania; Dr. Franklin D. Murphy, University of Kansas, and Herman Wells, Indiana University.

They said in their 15,000-word report that higher education in Russia severely limited intellectual growth by stressing short-term gains.

The report said, however, that the prestige accorded higher education in Russia was significant. The extent of financial support for schools was noted. The Americans pointed out that faculty members in Russian schools were among the highest paid individuals in the nation.

Soviet education was defined in the report as "an instrumentality for the training of persons who will serve the defined objectives of the state."

Coast Letters Flood D.C. on Gov.-Elect

Press Agent Shows No Modesty Beating Drums for Pat Brown

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—Edmund G. Brown has just won the governorship of California but he won't—or maybe it's his publicity man who won't—win any prize for modesty.

As soon as this Democrat beat Republican William Knowland in last Tuesday's election his headquarters bombarded Washington newsmen with airmail, special delivery letters on his victory, new power and splendid qualities.

International Prominence
Brown's win over Knowland pushed him into national prominence for the first time; he hasn't yet moved into the governor's office to show what he can do; but these letters were like telling the big-name political tigers in his party:

"Make way, boys, for a lion." The tigers may be impressed or they may think that for sheer gall newcomer Brown—or his publicity man—is in a class by himself.

In one sentence the letters denied Brown has any ambitions for the Democratic presidential nomination in 1960, in the next said he'd probably be California's "favorite son" candidate, and then wound up with this unabashed phrase:

"... Brown's moderation and his ability to weld conflicting interests make California's governor-elect a leading contender for national political leadership in the Democratic party."

Writer No Newcomer
Whoever wrote the letters is no newcomer to political doubletalk, which is a special kind of jargon intended to please everybody a little bit and make nobody mad much.

Brown was described as a "political moderate who nonetheless adheres to progressive principles." This is like listening to a Republican describe "Modern Republicanism."

You can draw from the letters a slight feeling Brown is not only thinking of himself as the Democrats' presidential candidate but is already warming up against a man he thinks may be his Republican rival.

Said one of the letters: "Brown had to work hard for everything he got. There was no money to send him to a university, so he went to night school and read for a blind attorney on the side."

Brown's humble beginnings stand out in sharp contrast to those of another new figure on the national political scene, Governor-elect Nelson Rockefeller of New York.

Good Campaign Material
If these letters had been used in Brown's gubernatorial campaign—before his election and with some slight changes—they might have gotten him some more votes.

But it's hard to understand why they were pumped out to Washington newsmen after the election, before Brown even took office, and before the Democratic party even had a chance to digest its national victory.

Maybe the publicity man had them left over from the campaign and liked them so much he could not bear just destroying them. One thing is sure: These letters did his boss up Brown.

Farm Group Asks Fight On Direct Crop Subsidy

SYRACUSE, N. Y. (AP)—An official of a national farm organization is urging farmers to fight any government plan for direct subsidies on crops.

John Datt of Washington, D. C., legislative representative of the American Farm Bureau Federation, said Monday that legislation providing for such subsidies was expected next year.

He addressed the opening session of the 43rd annual meeting of the New York Farm Bureau. The meeting ends Wednesday.

Under the direct-subsidy program, farmers would receive federal payments that made up the difference between the amount received in the market for crops and 100 per cent of parity.

Farmers now receive federal payments based on a certain percentage of parity. Parity is figured on the basis of what farmers must spend for goods and services.

Datt said that "the question as to whether we can continue as free farmers and free people will be determined by the next Congress."

"No two people drive alike—if you have a light touch or drive slower than I did you might even get 21.7 miles per gallon. But no matter how you drive—or where you drive—you'll be amazed at the mileage you get from this big, roomy full-powered Pontiac V-8."

We asked one of America's most respected automotive writers and car testers—"Uncle Tom" McCahill—to put a standard Pontiac Catalina Sedan with our new economy V-8 to the test... coast to coast.

And with only one specification—that the run would be exactly like you would drive coast to coast yourself—in mountains, in city traffic, across deserts, buying gas wherever the tank ran low.

And here's the phenomenal story in every complete detail—all supervised and officially certified by NASCAR, America's top automobile competition authority.

What does it mean to you?
Simply—and very importantly—this: For the first time, you can get deep-chested V-8 pep with better mileage than from many smaller so-called "economy cars"... and get it on regular fuel!

If you owned a Pontiac with this revolutionary new Tempest 420E V-8 power plant right now you'd be enjoying savings of up to 5 cents a gallon on regular fuel.

NATIONAL EDUCATION WEEK

A week of dedication to education has been planned during the current observance of National Education Week and The Freeman is cooperating with local school authorities in presenting a series of articles and pictures on the local school system.

The National Education Association, the American Legion, the U. S. Office of Education and the National Congress of Parents and Teachers, the sponsoring organizations, hope to make Americans aware of the important role education plays in a democracy and to impress upon the public that education is their business and their responsibility.

The question of consolidation of some 25 rural districts into the Kingston City District has made local residents intensely aware of the local school problem during the past year. The people also have become familiar with the critical shortage of classrooms and teachers and the increasing number of children of school age throughout the country. National Education Week is a fitting time for parents and all other citizens to obtain additional information about their school system.

Open house at city elementary schools will be held Wednesday. All should take advantage of this opportunity to see first hand what is going on in the schools. This is an appropriate occasion to ask questions and to see how your tax money is being spent.

TO FEED THE HUNGRY

It is commonly said that humanity has arrived at an age of abundance. This is true, in a general sense. Yet the fact is that more human beings still live at a subsistence level than at any level approaching the abundant life most of us enjoy here in the United States.

Therein lies the compelling reason for this nation to continue seeking ways to dispose of our surplus foods abroad. We have more food than we can use, and in other parts of the world there are hundreds of millions of hungry people. That is why we must not curtail surplus disposal programs in the face of obstacles: we have some obligation, as a wealthy and humane people, to feed the hungry. It should also be considered, but only incidentally, that sharing our abundance is one of the most effective ways of fighting Communism.

An interesting surplus food disposal plan was outlined recently by Willard Cochrane, a University of Minnesota economist. He would have the United States make long-range policy commitments to provide food and fiber to impoverished areas and thus enable them to use more of their own resources for economic development.

Cochrane's idea, suggested at a conference on agricultural adjustment at Iowa State College, would not entirely meet the objections of other countries that export food. There would still be some disrupting effect on world markets. But at least the long-range approach would reduce other trading nations' uncertainty as to U. S. surplus disposal programs. The idea is well worth further thought and development.

CALL ME MISTER

There is general agreement that Frank Sinatra, singer, thespian and man about town, is a fellow of talent. His talent rises to heights of genius when it comes to having run-ins with newsmen and photographers trying to quench the public thirst about the comings and goings of Sinatra.

On a recent occasion of this sort, the redoubtable Frankie was reported to have ordered his chauffeur to run down a photographer who dared to violate his "no pictures" order. Not having been there, we can't say as to that. What interests us is the exchange that led to the fracas.

A reporter asked, "Frank, what are your plans?" Whereupon Frank replied, "When will you (uncomplimentary word) stop calling me Frank? I am Mr. Sinatra."

What occurs to us is that maybe Frank Sinatra should reflect on how far his ca-

DO WE OWE THEM THE MONEY

Every morning, I receive quite a few documents from foreign governments designed to give me information on various subjects. Much of it is hardly worth the postage, but then men need jobs, and women need them, too.

Admittedly it is impossible for anyone to read all this material, but an occasional sampling brings forth something useful. Such a one is "For the Record," published by the Arab Information Center, which is a complaint that the United States gives more money to Israel than to the Arab states. That may or may not be a fact, but it is our money and we can do with it as we like. We owe nothing to the Arabs or to Israel and if we do them a favor by giving them some money, they ought to be grateful for our generosity and sympathy and not give us any lip about how we should spend our own dough.

These Arabs have worked it out statistically. It seems that they figure that the "American taxpayer has on the average paid thirty-five cents per year for each Arab." "For the Record" thinks that that is too little. If it is baksheesh (a gentle word for graft in their tongue), it may be too little, but actually what is this money being paid for? The report does not say. It only says that Israel gets more.

Let me quote a paragraph from this Arab document, published in the United States for American consumption:

"No matter which way one looks at these assistance statistics, the United States Government has given considerably more help to Israel than to all the Arab countries. There can be little wonder that informed quarters have expressed strong criticism of American economic policies in the Middle Eastern and North African areas. There is little wonder that the belief has spread among many Middle Easterners that the United States has not only ignored the Arab states, but that it positively supports certain states over the Arab states."

So what? Suppose we decide to give no American money to any country unless we get a quid pro quo; that is something for something. What will these Arabs give us that we have not contracted and paid for by now?

The sad fact about foreign aid is that many countries no longer recognize that this is a charity to them, an act of generosity on the part of the American people. They have been aided so freely that they have come to believe that it is coming to them, that we are, in effect, bribing them to do something for us. That is why some countries are putting conditions on foreign aid—"no strings attached."

It is well-nigh time to remind such countries that the choice is still ours and also that we do not care whether they go to Soviet Russia (aid). Let the Russians go broke sending their material wealth to weak and backward countries. These governments need a dose of Russian instructors and experts and organizers. Nehru let them in and now the state of Kerala is Communist. Suddenly Nehru is beginning to realize what a Trojan Horse can mean.

This is not merely an Arab question. Whoever put out this piece of propaganda is a poor hand at the job. Instead of licking the back of his benefactor, he tries to bit the calf of his leg because he gives some other country a little more. It proves nothing; it changes nothing; but it shows his boss that he writes copy. Maybe by paying attention to it will save the guy's job.

But the tone of this document is universal. Nations instead of looking after themselves have become impudent and demanding and act as though the United States owes them a living. Rapidly we are becoming the prey of a gang of blackmailers who make increasing demands and threaten to go over to the Russians if we do not come across.

Well, let them go over. If there is a war, it will be fought by weapons that have annihilated time and space and these countries which believe that they have something to sell to one side or the other will soon enough discover that a missile does not even recognize that they are on the map. It is time to show that to some of the blackmailers with charts.

★ Dr. Jordan Says ★ Cause of Neuritis Can Be Very Difficult to Diagnose

BY EDWIN P. JORDAN, M.D.
Written for NEA Service

Anyone who has ever suffered from neuritis knows how painful it can be.

This inflammatory disorder of a nerve (or of several nerves) is typically accompanied by pain of varying degrees of severity, by tenderness along the pathway of the nerve, by disturbances of sensation or feeling, and often by some wasting of the muscles supplied by the particular nerve.

It is not proper really to talk of neuritis as though it were a single disease. Actually, inflammation of the nerves can come as a result of many different causes.

Consequently, in the presence of neuritis, the problem is to try to find out what particular cause is responsible for the trouble in that individual human being.

Diabetes (especially if the condition has not been controlled by suitable diet or insulin) and infections are among the common causes. Vitamin deficiencies, especially the lack of vitamin B-1, also may produce nerve pain.

Multiple neuritis (inflammation of several nerves) is common among the victims of chronic alcoholism. Perhaps at least part of the reason is that such persons often substitute alcohol for a properly balanced diet containing enough vitamin B-1. This type of neuritis often can be much improved, or even relieved entirely by giving extra vitamin B-1.

Neuritis is a symptom always present in shingles, or herpes zoster. In this disease the cause of the trouble is a virus.

Severe anemia can produce neuritis. Poisoning with the heavy metals such as arsenic and many other substances used in industry may produce neuritis. This incomplete list gives an idea of the problem in making a diagnosis.

Successful treatment is almost always difficult. Vitamins, particularly B-1 and B-12, may help. There have been favorable reports with at least one commercial drug preparation.

Sometimes the pain is almost intolerable, particularly in people who have been weakened by disease, and in the elderly. Relief has sometimes been obtained by killing the involved nerve by injecting alcohol, or by cutting the nerve by an operation. Of course, this does not get at the bottom of the trouble, but it may be needed to ease the terrible pain.

One question on neuritis which I am often asked is whether change in weather has any effect.

I think there is no doubt that it does sometimes, but not always. Actually, changes in weather or barometric pressure seem to have much more effect on muscular rheumatism—or at least on the discomfort from that condition—than on neuritis.

Although some relief can be provided most victims, many continue to suffer from neuritis in spite of everything which is tried. However, in the long run a complete recovery is the rule.

reer would have progressed without public curiosity, and without reporters and cameramen to satisfy it. Maybe he should start calling the reporters mister.

Washington News

By PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — Visits of President Eisenhower and Secretary of State John Foster Dulles to the ninth Colombo Plan meeting in Seattle, which opened Nov. 10, are expected to pep up American interest in this 18-nation economic aid organization. This is the first time the group has met in the U. S.

West coast newspapers have given fair coverage to meetings of the Colombo Plan preliminary working group in Seattle, Oct. 20 to 25 and to the Colombo officials' meetings, making their annual reports Oct. 27 to Nov. 7. Under Secretary of State C. Douglas Dillon headed the U. S. delegations to them. But little news has trickled back east or down south because few people know what the Plan is or does.

The Colombo Plan for Cooperative Economic Development in South and Southeast Asia — to give it the full name treatment — was born at the 1950 meeting of British Commonwealth foreign ministers in Colombo, Ceylon.

The United States joined later that year and has been its mainstay and support ever since, to the tune of three billion out of the three and a half billion dollars worth of aid given the area in the past eight years.

STILL THE IDEA persists that the Colombo Plan is a British institution, operating much like the Marshall Plan only in a more limited area.

South and Southeast Asia nevertheless have about a fourth of the world's population. They supply the world with most of its jute and rubber, three-fourths of its tea and over half of its tin. And nine of the Colombo Plan countries are not members of the British Commonwealth.

The 18 members are better divided into 12 nations that receive aid and six that give it.

Those receiving aid include Ceylon, India, Malaya and Pakistan within the Commonwealth, with Burma, Cambodia, Indonesia, Laos, Nepal, Philippines, Thailand and Viet Nam outside. Nations giving aid are Australia, Canada, Japan, New Zealand, the United Kingdom and the United States.

Colombo Plan reports may seem to take credit for all the development work and raising the standard of living in free Asia, but it isn't that way at all. The receiving countries put more of their own resources into their development than they get from the outside, and 85 per cent of what they get from the outside comes from the U. S.

THE UNITED STATES doesn't give aid directly to the Colombo Plan organization as such. All American aid goes directly to the receiving countries under bilateral treaty.

For Colombo report purposes only, the non-military portions of U. S. mutual security assistance furnished by the International Cooperation Administration are lumped as contributions to the Colombo Plan.

U. S. economic assistance to Colombo countries over the past eight years, in millions of dollars, runs like this: Burma 43.8, Cambodia 145.4, Ceylon 14.1, India 480.3, Indonesia 73.1, Laos 165.1, Nepal 14.2, Pakistan 401.4, Philippine Islands 188.5, Thailand 169.3 and Viet Nam 1,063.0. The last figure covers Indochina war aid.

The Colombo Plan has no direct connection with Southeast Asia Treaty Organization, though seven of the Colombo countries are members of the SEATO alliance. They are Australia, Britain, New Zealand, Pakistan, the Philippines, Thailand and the United States.

THE U. S. ALSO has special defense treaties with Japan and the Philippines. But U. S. military aid to all these countries is kept separate from Colombo contributions.

U. S. representatives sit on the Colombo Consultative Committee and with its planning groups. This is done so that U. S. aid can be better coordinated with contributions of other countries. This avoids duplication of effort. It also makes receiving countries plan development carefully.

In summary, the Colombo Plan is a kind of loose organization. It has no permanent secretariat or head. It runs an information office in Colombo, Ceylon. But it does nearly all of its business at these annual meetings, like the one at Seattle.

History Forecasts Defeat For Republicans in 1960

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — American politics ran true to form last week. As of today, it looks like history will repeat and that the Republicans will get another defeat in 1960, no matter whom they nominate for the Presidency.

The theory that what happened in the past is of no significance and that "things are different now" has been adduced again and again in discussions of political affairs ever since the founding of the republic. The tragic fact is that the current generation is running true to form in failing to take to heart the lessons of the past.

This correspondent's experience with Congressional elections—beginning in November 1910—indicates to him that economic discontent usually wins at the polls, irrespective of party, and that in a contest between conservatism and progressivism, neither faction within a party ever extinguishes the other because convictions are stanchly held.

The cycles in politics seem to repeat themselves. When William Howard Taft was elected in 1908, he received the second largest number of electoral votes polled by any candidate up to that time. He had the sponsorship of Theodore Roosevelt, the incumbent Republican President, who was known as a "progressive"—the synonym for the present-day "modern" Republican. The first two years of the Taft administration were on the progressive side with one notable exception—his failure to veto a tariff bill which had enraged western Republicans. The "high cost of living" was blamed on the high-tariff policy of the Republicans, and it became the dominant issue in the Congressional campaign of 1910.

Country Amazed
The country was amazed on the day after the Congressional election to discover that for the first time in eighteen years the Democrats had won a House of Congress. Memories of the panic of 1893, which happened under the Democratic administration of Grover Cleveland, had been revived in every campaign to warn the voters that Democratic victory meant more depressions. But it had worn out as an argument for the Republicans in 1910.

The Congressional election of that year, however, didn't heal the wounds of the Republican party—it made them worse. One faction—corresponding to the "modern" Republicans of today—was led by Theodore Roosevelt, who turned on Taft. By 1912 the breach had widened and "T. R." headed a third party of "progressive" Republicans. As a consequence, Woodrow Wilson, Democrat, walked into the White House.

The argument then was that Theodore Roosevelt, as the most popular personality in national politics and a remarkable vote getter, "could win" and that Taft couldn't. But the conservatives wouldn't accept Roosevelt's "radicalism"—he even advocated the "recall of judicial decisions" by referendum of the people. The conservatives didn't have to wait long to see the Democratic administration get into economic trouble. This happened shortly after World War I broke out in 1914. While the Democrats won the Presidency by a hair in 1916, our entry into the war in 1917 upset the economy to such an extent that, even before the war ended, the Republicans won the House and Senate in the midterm election of 1918.

Conservatives Back
Then the conservative Republicans came back into power for a period of twelve years. They won by landslides in 1920, 1924 and 1928. They were benefited in 1924 by the existence of a "radical" Republican party under the candidacy of the elder Sen. La Follette, of Wisconsin. The cries of "radicalism" and "socialism" and the possibility of La Follette winning the Presidency drew many conservative Democrats away from the party nominee, John W. Davis, himself a conservative. That's how Calvin Coolidge won the Presidency. In ten of eighteen western states he carried, he didn't have a majority but only a plurality. La Follette got only Wisconsin's electoral vote. The conservatives in the Republican party really won out that time against the progressives or "modernists" largely because of help from conservative Democrats.

Today the President is trying hard to hold the conservatives in line with a sound fiscal program, but he is handicapped by the "welfare" boys who go along with the Democrats in believing that the thing to do is to keep the budget unbalanced and maintain "deficit spending."

The true answer to this conflict of view comes until there is economic adversity. It looks as if the present inflationary cycle will be halted only by a depression. The union bosses, though claiming to be against inflation, are actually feeding it. They have control of the Democratic party. This year the demands for higher and higher wages, are growing and of course, this will be followed by an era of higher and higher prices until a buyers' strike sets in. The rising cost of living and the reduced purchasing power of the dollar forbids political and economic trouble for the Democrats if they win in 1960.

The Republican nomination for the Presidency, therefore, that looks most worthwhile now is the one that will come up in 1964, when the Democrats may have been in power for four years in which economic recessions would seem to be inevitable and may prove more severe than any yet experienced. ## DO YOU REMEMBER

By SOPHIE MILLER

Received a very nice letter from Anthony Garvan, head curator of the department of civil history, Smithsonian Institution, United States National Museum, Washington 25, D. C. He wrote that at this time they have prepared a case which bears the label "Do You Have an Ulster County Gazette?" They have assembled them, in a glass case, I take it so that they can be easily read. They speak of, of course, the Ulster County Gazette of Jan. 4, 1800 and all its reprints. So if you know of anyone from Kingston or Ulster County who is in or around Washington or plans to be there, they can go and see this particular exhibit.

Garvan also sent me a revised 1958 information circular from the Library of Congress on the Ulster County Gazette of Jan. 4, 1800. I will quote some from it for those who have a reprint or whose friends have one. "The Ulster County Gazette was established May 5, 1798, at Kingston, New York, by Samuel Freer and Son. It was a weekly supporting the Federalist Party. Publication continued until 1803, when the title was changed to Ulster Gazette and the publisher was Samuel S. Freer, the "Son" of the earlier partnership."

It further states: "Reproductions of the issue for Jan. 4, 1800, are well known to librarians and dealers in old books through the great number of reprints that are scattered over every part of the country. There are more than 70 such reproductions, often differing from each other only in minor details."

He also sadly states: "Almost every private owner of one of these reprints honestly believes that he has an original copy. At the same time, only a few original copies of other numbers of the same paper are in existence. The reproduction of the issue of Jan. 4, 1800, began during the first half of the 19th century, perhaps as early as 1825. These early reprints were made in smaller numbers, and as regards the paper and type used, represented a somewhat more careful imitation of a newspaper printed in 1800 than do those of later years. The Centennial Exposition of 1876 in Philadelphia saw the beginning of the wholesale output of the reprints. At least one printing firm had a regular contract for supplying them and they were sold on the exposition grounds by the armful as historical souvenirs."

The following may interest the coming 1959 celebration committee. "In 1877, a centennial celebra-bration at Kingston, offered a similar opportunity. Since then various enterprising individuals have continued to flood the market with cheap and poor reproductions. Most of the reprints from 1876 to date are in clear, modern type and are on machine-made paper, calendared, thin, and brittle. The commercial value of the reprints is very small."

"Librarians watched many years for an original, but it was not until Nov., 1930, that the first was found. This is now in the files of the Library of Congress. Another original is now in the American Antiquarian Society, Worcester, Mass. These are the only originals known."

Allen P. Lutz, sealer of weights and measures for the city of Poughkeepsie, was recently elected president of the Sealers of the Southeastern Area group for a two year term at a meeting of the group at Westbury, L. I.

The organization is made up of approximately 75 weights and measures officials of cities and counties in Southeastern New York. Counties in the district include Ulster, Columbia, Delaware, Dutchess, Nassau, Orange, Putnam, Rockland, Suffolk, Sullivan, Washington and Westchester.

Lutz also is vice chairman of the State Sealers legislative committee and recording secretary of the Mid-Hudson chapter of the Association of former New York State troopers.

Girl Killed, Man Is Hurt Walking Tracks

YONKERS, N. Y. (AP) — The train whistle shrieked desperately again and again as the seven-car freight thundered toward a man and girl walking arm in arm on the tracks. They never turned their heads.

The girl, Eleanor Sendall, 14, was killed.

The man, Anthony Morse, 24, suffered a fractured skull and lost three toes off his right foot. He was taken to a hospital too dazed to explain the mystery of their last walk together Monday.

Police said Eleanor's father had told Morse to stay away from the girl after the father found out that Morse is married and not 19 as he claimed.

The wreckage is on part of the New York Central's abandoned Putnam passenger division.

43 Accused of Plot

ACCRA, Ghana (AP)—The government accused 43 persons of plotting to kill Prime Minister Kwame Nkrumah and two of his ministers. Twenty were arrested and police hunted the other 23 today.

An official announcement Monday night said the group formed an underground movement known as "Zenith Seven." Its aim was said to be the violent overthrow of the regime following assassination of Nkrumah.

Leaders of the opposition United party attended a hastily summoned meeting to discuss the arrests.

Frondizi Acts To Quell Strike Of Oil Workers

BUENOS AIRES (AP)—President Arturo Frondizi declared a state of siege in Argentina today in a drastic bid to quell an oil workers' strike which he has branded a Communist-inspired insurrection.

Frondizi's action came as he faced mounting danger to his ambitious plan to make Argentina an oil-rich nation with the aid of foreign capital, mainly from U.S. oil companies.

This is the first time Frondizi has taken such drastic action since he took over the presidency May 1. His proclamation suspends constitutional guarantees and gives police sweeping authority.

Security forces swept through the capital and interior cities on a wave of pre-dawn arrests. They were ordered to seize Communist, Peronist and Nationalist troublemakers, including agitators in labor's ranks.

Early unofficial estimates placed the number arrested at 300.

Oil workers in Mendoza Province struck a week ago, paralyzing activities in the oil fields at the foot of the Andes mountains. They are protesting the government's plan to get foreign aid for Argentina's nationalized oil industry.

Ball Proceeds to Help Marines Award Scholarships to KHSers

Several scholarships will be awarded to needy Kingston High School seniors as a result of the 12th annual ball of Ulster Detachment Marine Corps League held Saturday night at Wiltwyck Country Club.

This was the announcement made today by John Ray Mayone, general chairman of the event, who expressed personal gratification on the jammed-packed audience on hand for the ball.

About 500 on Hand

Although no official count was available, upwards of 500 persons were present Saturday night and enjoyed four acts of entertainment and dancing to the music of Johnny Michaels and his orchestra.

It also was the consensus of the audience that another outstanding feature of the program was the music offered by the local orchestra, with James Sweeney at the organ.

Mayone, who opened the show, turned the program over to Albert C. Trowbridge, commandant, who welcomed the guests and introduced, among others, Mayor Edwin F. Radol, City Court Judge Aaron E. Klein and the Rev. Robert T. Shellenberger, rector of St. John's Episcopal Church, who is chaplain of Ulster Detachment Marine Corps League.

The entertainment, booked through the Jimmy Daley Attractions of Albany, featured Jeanne Jerome, Queen of the Marimba; Beau Jenkins, tops in taps; the Burtons, pinch-hitting for Jack and Elsa Shannon, as the sweethearts of songs and Jack Marquardt, in his mind-reading act, assisted by Mrs. Marquardt.

Committees on Plans

Working with Mayone on plans for the ball were the following:

Patron tickets — Francis X. Clark, Harold DeGraff and Valmore F. Carpenter.

Single tickets — Peter J. Mancuso.

Program — Edward Whalen, Edward J. Esposito, Gilbert Gray.

Entertainment — Harold E. Macholdt.

Decorations — Robert Heaney.

A feature of the Marine ball program this year as the listing of past commandants of Ulster Detachment, including:

Michael Sottile, 1946; John

Claims Second Life

UTICA, N. Y. (AP)—An automobile accident Nov. 2 claimed its second life Monday night.

Arthur Owens of nearby Holland Patent, died in St. Luke's Memorial Hospital of injuries suffered in the crash. He had been unconscious since the accident.

His car left the road at Routes 365 and 12C and smashed into a tree, killing a passenger, Raymond E. Millington, 66, of Stillville.

Democrats Are Challenged on Federal Issues

NEW YORK (AP)—Sen. Jacob K. Javits (R-NY) today challenged the increased Democratic majority in Congress to add teeth to the federal government's civil rights and foreign aid programs.

Javits said the Democrats felt "no great sense of urgency" on the two issues in many instances during the last session of Congress.

The senator, whose seat was not at stake at last Tuesday's election, made the statements in a talk prepared for a meeting of the Foreign Policy Assn.

Javits said the United States must "launch a massive trade and aid offensive" abroad or watch the free world shrink.

He called upon Congress to give the attorney general effective power to initiate action in conflicts over public school desegregation.

Foreign aid and progress in civil rights, Javits said, are "critically important" in determining whether "the so-called neutralist bloc of new and underdeveloped nations" will adhere to the free world.

Javits said a major element in winning this bloc to the free world is the free world's "capability for bringing about material improvement in the living conditions in these nations."

Rylance Employees Get 13th Plaque, Six Others Cited

Employees of William Rylance & Sons, Inc., printers of 45 Hurley Avenue, have qualified for the Red Feather Honor Plaque Award, and six additional groups have been named by the Community Chest for special citations.

The Rylance employees became the 13th group to qualify for the Plaque Award, which is based upon 90 per cent participation in the campaign and a total employee gift equal to 60 per cent giving at the Fair Share schedule.

Citations, issued to groups showing marked improvement over last year in acceptance of employee responsibility for the once-a-year drive for 10 agencies, will go to the following groups, the campaign committee has decided:

Employees of Benedictine Hospital, Freeman Publishing Company, Fuller Shirt Company, Kingston Laboratory and Tumor Clinic, Ulster County Savings Institution, and Painters, Decorators and Paperhangers of America Local Union No. 255.

In announcing the citation winners, to which additional names may be added as further returns are audited, Campaign Chairman Richard M. Kalish noted that the Painters Union members, in addition to participating in the drive by the pledge method, also donated their services for painting the Community Chest offices in the YWCA building.

Plaque Awards and Citations will be presented at a special awards meeting, to be held late this month or early in December.

The Red Feather campaign, held in October, has raised to date a total of $119,692.45 in pledges, with additional amounts being received daily. The total, which is 93 per cent of the $128,651 goal and nearly 12 per cent more than was raised in last year's campaign, is expected to reach at least 96 per cent of the goal before the final tally is made.

Motordom's New Measurement of Greatness!

The American motorist has long since adopted his own personal technique for judging the year's automotive offerings.

He simply looks to the new Cadillac car to discover motordom's fullest measure of all that is new and good and wonderful.

And never before has Cadillac placed such a high standard of excellence on the world's motor cars as it has for 1959.

For the new "car of cars" has introduced a whole new concept of what an automobile can do and be... and how it should look and act.

To the eye alone, it is a revelation. Elegant, majestic, substantial, poised—it has brought a new magic and splendor to the world of motion.

Its Fleetwood interiors are miracles of advanced design. Appointments... fabrics... and leathers are beautiful beyond imagination.

The 1959 Cadillac is equally inspiring from behind the wheel. Its spectacular new engine, its advanced transmission and its new ease of ride and handling make a journey at its wheel the most glorious distance between any two points.

These Cadillac advancements have been interpreted in thirteen distinctive body styles—including a new Eldorado Brougham.

So if you contemplate the purchase of any motor car in the coming year, you owe yourself an early visit with this newest of Cadillacs.

Sixty minutes in the showroom and on the highway will give you a full understanding of the new way to measure greatness in a motor car.

Should Stress Responsibility, Rabbi's Advice

RABBI HERBERT BLOOM

The statement of Rabbi Herbert I. Bloom, Ph.D., D.D., in answer to the question, "What is the greatest challenge in education today?" is presented here as one of a series of such statements by local civic and professional leaders of the community in connection with National Education Week, Nov. 9-16.

His statement follows: "I believe it is our duty to inspire our children with the value of our democratic system to the same or greater extent as the Communists commend their followers to the opposing system. We must not take democracy for granted, or permit it to stand for merely material things in the minds of our young."

"The cardinal character weakness in our generation is lack of responsibility. As educators, we should instill responsibility in our young people in consonance with each age level so that a sense of sharing in the nation's and family's destiny becomes a part of our young people's lives from the beginning."

"We should disabuse our young people of the much vaunted notion that the end of life is happiness. The end of life is service and we must prepare them for it. Happiness persists in being a by-product."

8,000 Strike At Chrysler

DETROIT (AP) — Some 8,000 Chrysler Corp. office workers and engineers struck at 10 a. m. today after failing in an all-night negotiating session to reach agreement on a new contract.

The strikers immediately set up picket lines at 24 Chrysler plants in the Detroit area and 10 others across the nation. It was expected the strike would idle some 80,000 other Chrysler workers shortly.

Chrysler's cafeteria workers, engineers, and production workers are represented by the United Auto Workers, the UAW and Chrysler reached settlement five weeks ago on a new three-year contract for production workers and cafeteria workers.

The office workers and engineers' contracts were left open for further negotiations and these talks ended in the strike today. The major issues in conflict are the union's demands for adjustments of wage increases and seniority provisions for office workers.

Chrysler has 22,000 additional office workers who do not belong to any union.

UAW officials expressed the hope the office workers strike would be settled quickly so production of Chrysler's 1959 model cars would not be tied up.

Production shutdowns now at work in Chrysler plants remained on the job in the first hour of the office workers' strike. But under the UAW's traditional policy, it was not expected that any union members would cross the office workers' picket lines to enter the plants for later shifts.

Financial and Commercial

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market stepped further into record high ground today but trimmed some of the gain early this afternoon.

Gains of most key stocks went from fractions to about a point. Some wider advances were made. There was a scattering of small losers and a number of pivotal issues were unchanged.

American Telephone continued its upsurge for a while, touching its highest price since 1930 before erasing the gain and showing a slight net loss.

Trading was quite heavy despite Veterans Day which brought semi-holiday conditions to the financial district. The ticker tape was late on two occasions.

Industrial and rails were well ahead while utilities maintained a narrow edge to the upside. Motors, coppers, aircrafts, chemicals and drugs were mostly higher. Farm implements, tobacco and airlines were mixed.

American Telephone, which rose 4 points Monday to a 27-year high, was ahead 1 1/4 to 202 at the opening—the utility's best price since 27 1/4, in 1930. In 1929 AT&T reached 310 1/4.

High quality investment demand was also reflected in a rise of nearly 4 points by Eastman Kodak. The advance was pared about a point.

Checker Motors ran up more than 2 points following news that it will unveil a long-planned passenger car next month. New York Shipbuilding jumped more than a point after word of a Navy contract. Union Pacific, General Dynamics and Pfizer made similar gains.

Chrysler was firm despite labor troubles. Fruehauf Trailer, American Can, Goodrich, Goodyear, Du Pont and International Telephone rose about a point each. Allied Chemical was a 1-point loser.

WINGED VICTORIES — In the final stages of assembly, numbers of America's latest operational anti-aircraft weapon, the Nike Hercules, move along a conveyor line at the Douglas Aircraft Co. plant in Charlotte, N.C. The Hercules, successor to Nike Ajax, is a surface-to-air radio command missile capable of knocking down any manned aircraft or nonballistic missiles known. The missile body, which can carry either a conventional or nuclear warhead, is 27 feet long and is powered by a solid fuel rocket motor. A 14-foot-long solid rocket booster provides initial impetus. Operational since July, first Hercules units are stationed in the New York, Philadelphia, Chicago and Washington-Baltimore areas.

town assistance in securing relief was discussed.

Invited to Attend

As a result of that meeting Supervisor Mable invited residents of the Village of Connelly to attend the town board meeting at the town hall, Port Ewen, on Wednesday of this week at 8 p. m.

It was suggested by Supervisor Mable that the town attorney, Charles H. Gaffney, be present at the meeting to discuss legal procedure and give his opinion in the matter. Attorney Gaffney has been involved in other blasting controversies and is acquainted with the problem. Supervisor Mable stated today that Gaffney would be invited to be present at the meeting and discuss with the Connelly group the entire matter from a legal standpoint.

Would Reduce Charges

Residents of the area have long complained of damage to their homes from heavy blasting operations carried out at the quarry on the Rondout Creek. A reduction in the size of the blasts many feel would eliminate much of this difficulty.

Supervisor Mable stated that it was expected there would be a considerable delegation interested in the blasting operations present at the meeting of the expous Town Board on Wednesday.

The package, opened in a woods, contained a block of wood. H. G. Foster, agent in charge of the FBI office in New York City, said the two prisoners would be charged in U. S. district court there today with attempted bank robbery. The charge carries a possible maximum sentence of 20 years in prison and a $5,000 fine. Foster said Feenburg prepared the note and package and instructed Peterson on the robbery attempt.

Communists May Resume Shelling Quemoy Every Day

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP) — The Communists warned defenders of the Quemoy today that they might resume shelling every day, the Chinese Nationalists reported. Red shore guns have been silent for four even-numbered days.

The warning broadcast by loudspeakers on the mainland did not make clear whether the supply areas on Quemoy would be shelled on even days. Since Oct. 25 the Reds have shelled the supply areas only on odd-numbered days.

Since today was an odd day the Nationalists on the offshore islands waited until Wednesday to see what Red gunners would do. Nothing was heard from Radio Peiping.

Radio Peiping announced 17 days ago that the landing beaches and airstrip on the Quemoy would not be shelled on even days. It said the remainder of the offshore islands might be shelled on even days, however.

But in practice, Communist gunners have been inactive on the last four even days. The loudspeaker announcement could simply mean that areas other than the landing zones would now be bombarded on even days once more.

Or it could mean that the Communist alternate-day policy was being abandoned completely in favor of shelling the landing zones daily. Nationalist officials tended to doubt this since Peiping radio had not spoken up.

It was not immediately clear whether the commander of the Fukien coastal area facing the Quemoy was personally responsible for the announcement carried by loudspeakers across the six miles of water separating Amoy from Quemoy.

The broadcast came after a long emergency session with Hussein's cabinet. Parliament was called into session today.

Hurd, Ronan and Mrs. Martin will represent the incoming administration at budget hearings scheduled to start Friday in Albany.

The new budget goes into effect April 1. Hearings were delayed so the Rockefeller team could attend.

Teacher Since 1936

Hurd will replace Clark Ahlberg, budget director under defeated Democratic Gov. Averell Harriman. The new budget director is a member of the State Board of Regents and has been a teacher at Cornell since 1936. He was first named to a state post—director of farm manpower—in 1943 by Dewey. He served two years.

Ronan, 46, has been dean of NYU's graduate school of Public Administration and Social Services since 1953. He was director of the temporary State Commission on Revision of the Constitution and served as a deputy city administrator under Democratic Mayor Robert Wagner here from 1955 to 1957.

Ex-Heavyweight Held for Murder In Holdup Killing

BUFFALO, N. Y. (AP)—Henry "Snow" Flakes, a highly regarded heavyweight boxer ten years ago, has been charged with first-degree murder in a holdup killing.

Flakes, now 31, won a decision over Pat Comiskey in 1948 and knocked him out later that year. He also whipped Lee Oma twice.

He was charged Monday in the slaying of Joseph Friedman, 52, last Friday night at Friedman's clothing store in nearby Lackawanna. Police said several suits and $300 in cash were taken.

Friedman's wife, Helen, said two Negroes held up the store. One of them beat up her husband, while the other held her at gunpoint.

John F. Dwyer, Erie County district attorney, said Flakes signed a statement admitting that he held a gun on Mrs. Friedman. He told police the other man beat the proprietor.

The police are still seeking the second man.

They said Flakes has a long police record and has served time in Attica State Prison for carrying a concealed weapon illegally. Flakes' ring career ended in 1948 when it was found he had a cataract in one eye.

At his arraignment on the murder charge Monday, he waived a preliminary examination and was held for grand jury action.

Contracts Approved By State for 4 Villages on Power

NEW YORK (AP)—The State Power Authority has approved contracts for supplying power from the St. Lawrence power project to four Upstate villages and three rural cooperatives.

Approval followed public hearings, the authority said Monday. The contracts will be forwarded to Gov. Averell Harriman with a recommendation for approval.

The villages and the power they will get are Ilion, 8,000 kilowatts; Mohawk, 2,500 kilowatts; Skaneateles, 3,000 kilowatts, and Frankfort, 2,500 kilowatts.

The cooperatives are Delaware County Electric Cooperative, Inc., Delhi, 4,000 kilowatts; Oneida Madison Electric Cooperative, Inc., Bouckville, 1,300 kilowatts, and Otsego Electric Cooperative, Hartwick, 4,000 kilowatts.

The authority said no agreement was reached on a contract with the Village of Herkimer, pending negotiation of minor changes in the language of the pact.

Contracts with seven other villages had been agreed on previously and five of them are receiving power at what the authority described as greatly reduced rates.

Says Travelers In Space Face Radiation Bands

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Space travelers face double trouble from dangerous radiation, a scientist said today.

They must survive two different bands of radiation, not just the one recently discovered by Explorer satellites.

But a space ship designed like a club sandwich could take them safely through, said Dr. S. Fred Singer of the University of Maryland.

Its outer skin would be built up in layers of various materials to block out the radiation.

Dr. Singer spoke at the opening of the second international Symposium on the Physics and Medicine of the Atmosphere and Space. The three-day conference is sponsored by the Air Force School of Aviation Medicine here and arranged by the Southwest Research Institute.

Dr. Singer said there are apparently two bands of radiation around the earth.

One is a band of intense or hard radiation. The other is less intense, or soft radiation, streaming from our sun itself.

Both bands are trapped in the earth's magnetic field and constitute human hazard. The radiation could be lethal over long periods of exposure. Some of it could damage human germ cells or the genes determining heredity.

The intense, hard radiation is most dangerous, Dr. Singer said. He estimated it would take 10,000 pounds of lead shielding around a spherical space ship 12 feet in diameter to keep it from harming human occupants. But that weight is too much for a space ship.

Dr. Singer proposed the club sandwich as a solution.

Chlorine Gas Fells 5 of Train Crew

GLENS FALLS, N. Y. (AP) — Chlorine gas felled five members of a train crew working in the yard of a paper-manufacturing plant Monday night.

Richard Manell, 25, of Whitehall, and Thomas Breeyear, 54, of South Glens Falls, were reported in fair condition at Glens Falls hospital.

Treated but not admitted were Truman Hazeltine, 53, of Fort Edward, the engineer; Daniel Christopher, 40, of Albany, the fireman, and Wesley Belder, 42, of Whitehall.

They were members of a Delaware & Hudson Railroad train crew removing empty freight cars from the yard of the Finch, Pruyn Corp.

Police said the men became ill when the locomotive was passing a new building housing a chemical processing unit.

Glancing Over TV Bill of Fare

By CHARLES MERCER

NEW YORK (AP) — When friends told Julie Wilson that she didn't appear to best advantage on television some time ago, the attractive singer and dancer went into action immediately.

"I cut my hair, starved myself to death, changed my mouth and defied the cameras to mistreat me," she said the other day.

The cameras no longer mistreat her. She will appear to best advantage Nov. 20 co-starring with Alfred Drake and Patricia Morrison in the "Hallmark Hall of Fame" (NBC-TV) production of "Kiss Me, Kate" (9:30 p.m., EST) "Kiss Me, Kate" by Sam and Bella Spewack, with music by Cole Porter, is a joyous romp based on Shakespeare's "The Taming of the Shrew." Drake and Miss Morrison played in its long Broadway run.

"It's a show that's been very kind to me," said Miss Wilson, who played in the road company in this country and then went to England in the dual role of Bianca and Lola Lane. There she rocked Coliseum audiences nightly with her rendition of "I'll Always be True to You, Darling, in My Fashion" and went on to a featured part in the British revue "Bet Your Life."

To Many a Singer Returning to this country, she played leads on Broadway in "Kismet" and "Pajama Game."

Considering all this, it seems strange that Miss Wilson remains fixed in many people's minds as primarily a nightclub singer of so-called sophisticated songs.

"By sophisticated," she says, "they mean a bit risqué. Why can one or two songs in a supper club make people overlook the fact you're an actress?"

Neighbors Dull? — Perhaps Fault Lies in Your Focus

Dorothy is always meeting the most interesting, the most amusing, the nicest, and the smartest people.

Yet Dorothy doesn't have a fascinating job that makes it possible for her to meet "interesting" people.

Dorothy is a housewife in a small city and the interesting people she is always meeting are the same people her friends meet and seldom find to be stimulating.

The reason Dorothy finds so many people unusual in one way or another is that Dorothy looks for the qualities in each person she meets that set that person apart.

When she meets another housewife, for instance, she doesn't immediately put her in a mental category—about 30, husband an insurance man, rather pretty, two children, lives in such and such a neighborhood.

No, Dorothy comes away from the meeting with an entirely different picture. She didn't meet a thirtyish housewife, whose husband sells insurance. She met a woman who is interested in art, who is taking painting lessons at the local college, and whose enthusiasm for her hobby has won Dorothy's attention and admiration.

Just hearing Dorothy describe this new acquaintance would make you anxious to meet her—for Dorothy has discovered what it is that makes her different from other housewives.

When Dorothy speaks of the persons she knows it is in terms of their intelligence, their wit, or their special talents — because that is what she looks for in the persons she meets.

So she finds interesting people everywhere. And so could the rest of us—if whenever we meet a person we would look for the thing that makes him different and sets him apart from others.

All too often we housewives tell ourselves that only women with fascinating jobs have a chance to meet fascinating people.

Republicans See Strong Comeback In '60 Election

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republican state chairmen say unanimously their party will revive from the shattering impact of last week's election losses and make a strong comeback in 1960.

But their ideas vary widely on how to rebuild the GOP ranks decimated by severe setbacks in Senate and House contests.

An Associated Press canvass of 38 GOP state chairmen disclosed that some of them, mostly in the South, want their party to turn back to the conservative policies of the late Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio.

Others want to revitalize the Republican organization, and its candidates, to modernize the party's appeal to the average voter.

Consider Default

Still others are confident that the Democrats, with their over-size congressional margins, will trip over their own feet and more or less let the Republicans back in by default.

Vice President Nixon, who is expected to command efforts to refurnish the party, was picked by 20 chairmen in varying degrees of firmness as the leading candidate now for the 1960 GOP presidential nomination.

Suggestions for modernizing the party's setup came from two chairmen in states where the Republicans were able to turn the Democratic tide and elect GOP governors.

Other Views

Rhode Island Chairman William T. Broomhead said the Republicans have got to "strengthen everyday relations with people." In his state Christopher Del Sesto ousted Democratic Gov. Dennis J. Roberts as an aftermath of a 1956 ballot count controversy.

James F. Short of Oregon said the Republicans "have some adjustments to make." In his state Republican Mark Hatfield won the governorship while shunning the party label and publicly opposing the Eisenhower administration on its power policies.

Would Be Conservative

There was a feeling among some chairmen that the Republicans need to turn back to more conservative policies. Some of them called for a strong fight against labor leaders, such as that which Sen. Barry Goldwater conducted in winning re-election in Arizona.

N. Bryant James, Louisiana chairman, suggested that the Republicans go back to what he called "the Taft school of thought." South Carolina's Greg Shore said the GOP can win "if the conservatives roll up their sleeves and go to work."

In Indiana, where the Republicans took one of their worst beatings, State Chairman Robert W. Matthews said the GOP can count on the Democrats making trouble for themselves.

"The liberals will be in control over the country for the next two years and there will be so much heavy spending the people will be thoroughly disgusted," he said. George W. Millas Jr., chairman in California, where the Republicans took a shellacking, reflected the optimism of most of his colleagues.

"If you recall," he said, "we were pretty badly smashed up by Harry Truman's election in 1948 and we came back pretty fast."

Midland and Odessa, Tex., are both tough cowtowns and oil towns, 300 miles west of Fort Worth. Each supports a symphony orchestra and chorus.

P-TA Lists Several Projects; Teacher Panel Draws Praise

More than 75 parents and teachers heard several interesting reports and proposals at the Woodstock Parent-Teachers Association's third meeting of the year. Janet Greene presided at one of the most enthusiastic meetings in local P-TA history.

After a general discussion on the Student Loan Fund's committee finding and recommendations, it was felt to be too ambitious an undertaking for the present and was shelved. Mrs. Edward Gurland reported for the committee. It was also reported that all playground equipment had been repaired and everything was now in order.

Mrs. Alvin E. Moscovitz gave a brief summary of the recent Ulster County P-TA conference, the conference agenda and its workshops. Several new projects were discussed but none got off the floor.

Charles King, the P-TA representative on the Christmas Eve planning group, stated he had been appointed chairman of the Christmas Decorations Committee. He asked the assistance of three P-TA members: Robert W. Greene, Mrs. Moscovitz and Mrs. Rudolf Wetterau.

New Project Discussed

Mrs. Joseph Steinlauf introduced a project in which a majority of P-TA members had indicated they were most interested: "How the Citizens Can Work for Better Schools." A detailed report on this subject will be announced later.

It was also announced that another Hoe Down is being planned for the near future.

The program "Woodstock Teachers Report" featured comments by a panel of four teachers—Mrs. Arthur Hansen, Mrs. Donaldson, Frank E. Hancock, Principal Walter S. VanWagen.

Finletter Says Liberalism Vital In Rocky's Win

NEW YORK (AP)—Thomas K. Finletter, former Air Force secretary and an active Democratic worker in the fall campaign, says Nelson A. Rockefeller won election as governor "on more than personality."

Finletter says of the Republican victor:

"He waged a liberal, hard-hitting campaign and convinced the people he meant it. Whether he will be able to carry out the promises he made is something we shall have to wait to see."

Finletter, who was Gov. Averell Harriman's first choice for the Democratic U. S. Senate nomination that went to Manhattan Dist. Atty. Frank S. Hogan, expressed his post-election views Monday at a student government public affairs forum at City College.

Finletter, who served as chairman of the Independent Citizens Committee for Harriman and Hogan, said Rockefeller "skillfully exploited the Democratic troubles at the Buffalo convention."

These troubles largely concerned the maneuvers of Tammany Hall Leader Carmine G. DeSapio in pushing through the nomination of Hogan at the Democratic State Convention over Harriman's wishes.

Finletter said the Republicans used this clash to "blur the image of Gov. Harriman as the head of his party and a liberal."

The Rockefeller campaign, Finletter said, was "beautifully handled from a technical point of view and I don't think ours was."

Rockefeller, Finletter acknowledged, "put himself over with the voters on a personality basis, too." But he declared it was Rockefeller's "daring liberalism" that won for him. To do this, Finletter added, Rockefeller "pitched his campaign away from the Republican party, which is essentially conservative."

Ceramics Union Faces Suit by Glass Firm

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Local 112 of the striking United Glass & Ceramic Workers Union faces a $100,000 damage suit filed by the Pittsburgh Plate Glass Co.

The suit, filed Monday, charged that Local 112 at Springdale, Pa., started picketing the firm's downtown Pittsburgh warehouse Oct. 27.

As a result, the complaint said, Teamsters Local 249 refused to cross picket lines to make deliveries, causing a daily loss to the firm in excess of $3,000.

Pittsburgh Plate plants at Creighton and Ford City, Pa., and in other states have been closed for about a month by a union strike, called to back demands for a wage increase.

NEW YORK (AP) — Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

That the good old days weren't so bad in France. During the 15th century a Frenchman who kept three servants was permitted to kiss any French woman he fancied—except the relatives of his superiors.

First Cow in 1611

If an acquaintance annoys you by bragging his ancestors came over in 1620 on the Mayflower, you can always squelch him by pointing out: "After all, the first cow came over in 1611."

Hollywood may lead America in doctors, but New York has more doctors than any other state.

Farm families drink an average of 11 quarts of milk a week. City families drink nine.

Actor Walter Slezak describes his first meeting with his wife, Thelma: "The moment I saw her, God kissed me on the eyes." How long has it been since you told your wife something like that?

Creeping Prices

Everybody complains about the high price of food, but down in Colombia, South America, they've got a real holler. The price of toasted ants has just gone up to $1.34 a pound.

Currier & Ives Exhibit to End Friday at Bank

The exhibition of original Currier & Ives prints, owned by the Travelers Insurance Companies, now on display at the Ulster County Savings Institution, will close on Nov. 14.

This collection, one of the finest groupings of Currier & Ives lithographs in the country, has traveled through the United States, Hawaii, and Canada.

Since opening day, hundreds of visitors have viewed this show, which was arranged by Harlow F. deForest of The Frederick R. Childsey Agency representing Travelers. These prints are a capsule survey of 19th Century American life—presenting aspects of the growth of our country and reflecting the emotional mood of the times.

Police Seeking Clues In Caretaker's Shooting

PATTERSON, N. Y. (AP)—Police sought clues today in the death of a caretaker found with fatal shotgun wounds on an estate near here.

The body of Clarence Smith, 29, caretaker and assistant game warden on the L. A. Cushman estate, was found by his wife Monday in an area that had been posted to hunters.

Smith had been shot twice—in the back of the head and in the back.

Footprints were discovered near the body.

Smith and the wife lived in a house on the estate. When he failed to show up for supper, she began a search for him.

The estate, owned by the proprietor of the Cushman bakery chain, is in the suburb of Towners, Putnam County.

Two Air Lines Are Picketed, Reason Secret

NEW YORK (AP) — Pickets were set up outside the employee entrances of Trans World Airlines and Eastern Airlines hangars at La Guardia Field Monday night by striking employees of Capital Airlines.

The reason for picketing the two airlines was not immediately known.

The pickets belong to the International Assn. of Machinists, which has been striking Capital for 26 days. The other two lines are not on strike but Eastern employees have been voting on contract issues.

A spokesman for TWA at the field said that some employees had reported to work at midnight in spite of the pickets and that the airline expected no trouble.

The union also has current contract disputes with TWA, Eastern, National, Northeast and Northwest.

Social Measures Acceptable to Voters: Lehman

NEW YORK (AP)—Herbert H. Lehman, Democratic ex-senator and governor, says the results of the national election prove the American people do not believe social welfare measures are "radical or socialistic."

Lehman looked back Monday on the Democratic victories in a talk before the American Social Hygiene Assn.

He said the people "are deeply dissatisfied with the general sense of aimlessness, drift and apathy which has been dominant in our country."

Lehman added that "the voters gave the signal that they desire a bold leadership which can arouse not only Americans but all mankind to a sense of purpose, dedication and direction."

Lehman called for United States leadership in an international program of health cooperation aimed against disease and disability.

Expectant Mother Is Fatally Shot in Home

OVID, N. Y. (AP)—Mrs. Eileen Maureen Peterson, 20, an expectant mother, was fatally shot Monday night in the living room of her home, State Police said.

Her husband, Andrew, 19, was believed to have been showing her how to operate a .12-gauge shotgun when it discharged, officers said. The blast struck her in the chest. She was the mother of a 9-month-old child.

Both Peterson and his wife were from Philadelphia. Peterson is a military policeman stationed at the Seneca Ordnance Depot near this Seneca County village.

State Police are continuing their investigation. Inspector William Driscoll said.

Real Safe

WEEKHAWKEN, N.J. (AP)—Otto Venino and his wife left for an outing Sunday, confident their wall safe would keep a mink stole valued at $1,000, some jewelry, and $150 cash locked from potential intruders. And they were right. Somebody broke into their home while they were out. The bandits tore the safe out of the wall and took it with them.

For Veterans' Day

In No small plot of ground our sons are laid: As wide as earth the tomb that holds their dust. In fiery deserts their last beds are made, Or in far seas, where warships gather rust. In bustling cities some take their final sleep, Some weary battlers rest in vales of ice, And others on lone heights their vigils keep, O, Land of Lincoln, great thy sacrifice. And he who speaks at Gettysburg for God Speaks once again: "For every dear son slain Atone with valiant deeds. Lift up the rod Of righteousness and truth. Seek peace again! No longer let God's purpose be withstood; Let us now build his world of brotherhood."

This 'N' That

Let us remember those who died to make and keep our country free: This dear land of the Pilgrim's pride that broke the yoke of tyranny. On Boston Common, Concord Bridge, and Bunker Hill, they took their stand. In Belleau Wood, at Vimy Ridge, they dared to challenge might's command. On beach-heads half around the world, In Arctic cold, in tropic heat, the flag we love has been unfurled: The way of liberty—complete. Let us remember those who live, wounded and maimed, this Veterans Day and vow that we shall ever give to ease and aid them on their way. But, in these days of stress and strain, let us not lean upon our pride. But, rather, let us turn again to God and in His trust abide. Let us prepare—but let us pray, that in His wisdom he will send the sanity to seek and share His lasting peace with foe and friend.—Karl Flaster

What is security for the goose should also be security for the gander. A full-blooded Pima Indian in Arizona needed some cash, so he went to a banker and asked about a loan. Banker—How much do you need? Indian—Me want $200. Banker—For how long? Indian—Maybe two week; maybe two month. Banker—And what security have you? Indian—Me got two hundred horses. This seemed sufficient security and the loan was made. A short time afterward the Indian came into the bank with $2,200 cash, paid off the note, and started to leave with the rest of his roll. Banker—Why not let us take care of that money for you? The old Indian's mind flew back to the day when he wanted $200 and, looking the banker straight in the eyes, he solemnly asked, Indian—How many horses you got? The prize excuse was offered during the trial of a man charged with wife-beating. A neighbor was called as a witness for the prosecution. He described the blows in detail and the wife's helplessness. In astonishment the judge turned to the witness and asked: Judge—Do you mean the court to understand that you stood by and saw this man strike the poor woman again and again? Neighbor—Yes, I saw it all. Judge—And you made no effort to interfere? Neighbor—I couldn't. Judge—Why not? Neighbor—I was filling my pipe. A poor little rich boy sat at his bed-room window, gazing out sadly as he considered how impossible parents can be. Finally, he stood up, a look of determination on his face, and rang for a servant. Servant (appearing at the door asked)—Yes, sir? Boy—Pack my bag, Ferguson, I have decided to run away. Bride—The two best things I prepare are meat loaf and peach cobbler. Groom—Well, which is this?

K-R Bridge Shows Travel Gain of 24.09 PC in Oct.

October showed a gain of 13,820 vehicles, or 24.09 per cent, in travel over the Kingston-Rhinecliff Bridge as compared to a year ago, the New York State Bridge Authority reported today.

The bridge clocked 71,187 last month as compared to 57,367 a year ago.

John S. Stillman, authority chairman, reported a gain of 7.27 in the month for all four spans under the authority's control.

All spans clocked 692,353 last month as compared to 645,407 in October, 1957.

The Rip Van Winkle Bridge totals were 132,256 and 131,473, a gain of .60 per cent; the Bear Mountain, 145,035 and 130,852, a gain of 10.84 per cent, and the Mid-Hudson gained 5.38 per cent with totals of 343,875 and 327,715.

The Newburgh-Beacon Ferry, dropped by 2.35 per cent with totals of 41,016 and 42,002.

The Paris Metro, or subway, also has connecting bus tours for tourists.

Infant Killed, Man Critical From Crash

ALABAMA, N. Y. (AP)—One-year-old Christine Doxtader was killed Monday when the impact of a two-car collision tore her from her mother's arms.

Another passenger in the same car, Charles Anderson, 18, was in critical condition today at Genesee Memorial Hospital in Batavia. He lives at nearby Basom on the Tonawanda Indian Reservation.

The girl's mother, Linda Doxtader, 17, also of Basom, suffered minor injuries in the collision at an intersection. Police said she is not married.

The drivers of the two cars were not hurt.

Selling TV Station

UTICA, N. Y. (AP)—Negotiations for sale of Copper City Broadcasting Co. to a Philadelphia man for $2,900,000 are reportedly nearing completion.

Copper City operates WKTV, Utica's only television station, and Radio Station WKAL in Rome.

The buyer is reported to be Paul Fallon of Philadelphia, former owner of television stations there and in Wilmington, Del.

The sale is subject to approval of the Federal Communications Commission.

Seek Participants To Aid Shut-in Holiday Program

The Rehabilitation Committee of Ulster County TB and Health Association is seeking organizations willing to participate financially or materially in a holiday project for shut-ins.

The committee is accepting help, gifts for the patients at the TB Hospital, and for refreshments for the patients at the Ulster County Infirmary.

The project will include entertainment and a visit from Santa Claus who will deliver a gift for each patient at the hospital and infirmary on Flatbush Avenue.

B'nai B'rith Auxiliary has volunteered to serve refreshments at the hospital and provide gifts for the patients at the infirmary.

The Rehabilitation Committee will meet December 9 to review the holiday program and make final arrangements for the projects. Organizations may send a delegate to the meeting.

Akron, Ohio, was named for the Greek word "Akron," meaning high.

IBM Instructor Speaker Nov. 13 At Blind Dinner

Michael Supa, a staff instructor and consultant in psychology with the IBM department of education, Endicott, will be the principal speaker at the annual dinner and party for Ulster County blind persons in the parish hall of St. John's Episcopal Church at 6:30 p. m. Thursday.

The public is cordially invited to attend the program which begins about 7:15 immediately following the dinner.

The event is sponsored by the sight conservation and blind committee of the Kingston Lions Club.

Supa, himself blind, has taught psychology classes at IBM for the past 16 years. He has worked in the training and employment of handicapped persons at IBM and, while with IBM in World War 2, was associated with the rehabilitation program for the army and navy.

A resident of Binghamton, he has been published in the American Journal of Psychology, Outlook Magazine (for the blind) and has appeared on radio and television.

He is married and has three children.

Also on the program will be the Barbershop Chorus of the Mid-Hudson Valley Chapter of the Society for the Preservation and Encouragement of Barbershop Quartet Singing in America.

Edward DeTemple, chairman of the committee in charge of the affair, said any interested persons would be welcome to the evening program.

His committee is comprised of William J. Burke, Donald F. Decker, David S. Gerbarg, Foster J. Meitroff, Warren F. Smith and Gerald W. Sumer.

Find Hunter's Body

STONY CREEK, N. Y. (AP)—A body found Monday in woods near here has been identified as that of Charles Luce, 50, of Saratoga Springs.

Dr. Hilton H. Dier, a Warren County coroner, said indications were that Luce died of natural causes while hunting Sunday.

Dier withheld a formal verdict pending an autopsy.

Edward Harris of Corinth, a hunter, found the body in the woods near this community west of Lake George.

Trumps Cast Upon Waters

BY OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service
When Generous George jumped to three hearts he knew he was overbidding a little but George likes to overbid and give his opponents a chance to set him.

There was no problem about North's raise to game or about West's opening lead of the king of clubs.

George was generous enough to let West hold that trick. He won the next lead of the suit, came to his own hand by ruffing a third club and led a low trump.

West played the nine and George smiled sweetly at him and remarked: "What a nice little card. Anyone else would play the queen from dummy, but I am going to let that nine hold. Of course, your partner may not be as generous as I am."

Suited the action to the word, George played the five from dummy and East had to play his singleton king.

The rest of the play was unimportant. George lost a trick to the ace of trumps, but that was all. His generous play had been a beauty.

He could not lose the hand if trumps were going to break 2-2. He would have lost if West had played the nine from ace-king-nine, but George was willing to pay off to a West player who could match his own generosity.

Productivity — Big Word With Big Meaning for U. S.

BY FAYE HENLE

Talk with a handful of corporate executives representing a fair cross section of industry and you'll discover they are optimistic on two important scores. Their business has improved. They look to continued plus signs in sales and profits.

Equally — or perhaps more important — they point with pride to increased productivity. Increased production means turning out more goods and services with fewer man-hours. Were all raw materials, prices, taxes, wage rates and plant investment costs to remain static, it could spell far higher earnings. On occasion it does.

Currently, however, higher productivity makes it possible for companies to compensate in measure for the rising costs of just about everything. It spells the difference between loss and the present rate of profit.

Productivity of goods and services is an important factor in our economy. It is one well worth pondering, because while business is booming over productivity gains, an impressive number of economists are literally screaming that productivity is not gaining sufficiently and that the lag is a problem as serious as inflation.

What is the latest score on productivity gains?

Most recent government figures, covering factory workers only, show a 3.5 per cent annual gain from 1947 through 1953. Unofficial guesstimates put the increase at from five to six per cent in just the past year, holding that the tremendous increase in new plant and equipment installations plus cost-cutting efforts are responsible.

If the unofficial figures prove to be correct, what grounds do the economists have for their criticism? If you asked them, this is what you would hear:

Our rate of productivity gain is not keeping pace with that of other nations. One economist cites that over the past four years output in Germany has gained at an annual rate of 10 per cent, in Japan eight per cent, in the Soviet Union the gain has been seven per cent. (I think he fails to take into consideration the fact that, especially in the case of Germany and Japan, the faster productivity gain is due in considerable measure to the rebuilding of war-destroyed industries.)

Second, you would be told our productivity gain is being stymied by insufficient basic research.

Basic research is the development of something totally new, not the addition of a refinement or gadget to something already being produced.

If more money were spent on basic research, whole new industries might be born. Ever hear of anyone in the TV business 20 years ago?

As matters now stand, productivity gains have not caused unemployment. The number of people working today, in relation to our total population, is pretty close to the numbers worked in 1948.

Via higher productivity, industry can control inflation. If workers are granted a three per cent wage increase and produce only two per cent more, that is inflationary. If they can produce at a rate commensurate with their higher pay, a measure of stability is achieved.

Further Inquiry Of Apalachin Group Planned

NEW YORK (AP) — The State Commission of Investigation plans to inquire into allegations that some of the three-score delegates to the Apalachin, N. Y., underworld convention are active in the jukebox and vending machine industries.

Chairman Jacob Grumet, who announced the plans Monday added that the commission is interested in any business connections of the delegates to the convention last Nov. 14.

Cases in County Court on Monday Heard by Bruhn

Nial Keogan, Ellenville car-penter, was fined $100 and received a 30 day suspended jail sentence Monday in County Court on a plea of guilty to reckless driving. He had been indicted by the grand jury for operating a motor vehicle while intoxicated as a second offender. Alex J. Nirenberg, who appeared for Keogan, told Judge Louis G. Bruhn that the defendant had been deprived of considerable work because his license had been taken away and he asked for leniency. The fine was paid and bail exonerated.

Bernard Johnston, 19, Sawkill, and Christopher Genter, 22, of 22 Hillcrest Avenue, charged with burglary, third degree, and unlawful entry, entered pleas of guilty to the second count of the charge, unlawful entry. A third defendant, Edward Calhoun, 21, of 303 Hurley Avenue, had his case disposed of some time ago. The trio was charged with having entered Art's Service Station on Route 28, last May. State police surprised them in the act and Genter was arrested in the place but the other two escaped and were apprehended shortly after in a nearby woods.

Johnston was represented by Joseph Hill and Genter by George Beck. Sentence will be imposed on Friday at 10 o'clock. Johnston was also arraigned on another charge of burglary, third degree, and unlawful entry and entered a plea of guilty to a fourth count on the charge. He will face sentence on Friday at 10 o'clock.

Charles Kenneth Schoonmaker was arraigned on a charge of sodomy and a plea of innocent was entered. Charles Saccoman appeared for defendant, waived reading of the indictment and was granted 20 days for motions. Bail was continued.

Also arraigned was Herman Krom, charged with forgery, second degree. Sherwood Davis appeared and waived reading of the indictment, a plea of innocent was entered and bail was continued. Twenty days granted for motions.

In the case of Francis Charles Latvia and William Fischer, grand larceny, second degree, bail was forfeited and a bench warrant of arrest was directed. Similar action was taken in the assault, third degree case against Cornelius Dougherty.

Trial of the indictment charging George Norton with violation of Section 65 of the Alcoholic Beverage Law was moved and selection of a jury commenced. Sherwood Davis appears for Norton who was bartender at The Barn last December when Craig Spence, then 17, was allegedly sold alcoholic beverage. This is one of a series of charges growing out of an evening tour by Spence and the Rev. Arthur E. Oudemool to ascertain whether alcoholic beverages could be purchased by minors. Norton, bartender at The Barn on Route 28, is charged with having sold beer to Spence.

There was no court today.

Army Major Slain After Robbing Theater

KANSAS CITY (AP) — A 40-year-old major, studying with the Army's brightest officers at the Command and General Staff College, was shot and killed Monday night after robbing a downtown theater of $568.

Police identified him as Russell Edgar Parker, originally from Corbin, Ky.

John E. Dugan, manager of the theater, shot Parker in the back. Parker staggered down a flight of stairs and through the lobby, then collapsed and died face down on main street in the bright light of the Roxy Theater marquee. He still cradled the theater's metal cash box in one arm.

The major's wife, the former Janie McBride of Raeford, N.C., went into shock when she was told of his death. They were living in Leavenworth, Kan., 25 miles northwest of Kansas City, while Parker attended the college at Ft. Leavenworth. They have no children.

"We have been unable to determine any cause for his actions other than that he might have been having some sort of financial difficulties," said an Army spokesman.

Two Chickens Are Better Than One for Thanksgiving

TWIN ROAST chickens like these mean more of everything for holiday guests. More legs, breasts—more Thanksgiving gusto.

BY GAYNOR MADDOX,
NEA Food and Markets Editor
There's twice the treat to Thanksgiving dinner when two young roast chickens are served instead of one large bird. Why? Well, there are twice as many drumsticks and breasts to go around, so everyone will be happy. You can serve two kinds of stuffing, too—one with nuts and raisins, the other with oysters.

Chickens between 3½ and 5 pounds are so juicy they need no basting. The roasting time for two small chickens is only half that of one large bird—good news for the cook.

Twin Roasting Chickens
Two young roasting chickens, 1 teaspoon salt, divided; 2 tablespoons softened butter, shortening or salad oil.
Wash chickens under cold, running water; pat dry inside and out with paper toweling. Sprinkle each cavity with ½ teaspoon of salt. Fill neck cavity lightly with stuffing. Hook wing tip into back to hold neck skin; if skin is short, fasten with skewer. Fill body cavity with stuffing; tie legs together with string, then tie legs and tail together. Rub entire body of each chicken with 1 tablespoon softened butter or shortening or brush with salad oil. Place chickens on rack in shallow roasting pan. Roast in moderate oven (375 degrees F.). Allow 30 minutes per pound (2 hours for a 4-pound roasting chicken). Serve with giblet gravy.

Duo Savory Stuffing
Enough for 2 young roasting chickens)

One package (8 ounces) prepared stuffing mix, 4 tablespoons chopped onion, 1 cup celery.

In saucepan or skillet, melt butter called for in package directions for crumbly stuffing. Add onion and celery; cook until onion is tender, but not brown. Add liquid called for in package directions. Bring to a boil. Add to stuffing. Divide stuffing in half. To half the stuffing, add ½ cup chopped nuts and ¼ cup raisins. To remaining half, add 6 medium oysters coarsely cut. Use each half of the stuffing for one chicken.

THANKSGIVING DINNER: Tomato bouillon with chopped watercress, cheese straws, twin roasting chickens, duo savory stuffing (raisin-nut and oyster), giblet gravy, whole cranberry sauce, stuffed baked potatoes, diced buttered turnips, creamed onions with chopped parsley, crusty rolls, butter or margarine, relish tray: celery, cucumber sticks, carrot sticks, ripe and green olives, fresh fruit compote, coconut layer cake, coffee, tea, milk, nuts and raisins and candied ginger.

Greene County Renews Bounty On Foxes, Bobcats

The bounty system for foxes and bobcats returned to neighboring Greene County this weekend with $3 paid for foxes and $5 for bobcats, effective immediately.

The bounty law was revived by a unanimous vote of Greene County Board of Supervisors Friday night. The resolution was submitted by Supervisor Kenneth R. Hill of Durham.

In the past few years predators were curbed by trapping, and an annual fee paid to a professional trapper.

County Attorney Francis A. Ruf of Catskill listing the mechanics of claiming a bounty said a person killing a fox must sever the tail from the dead animal and submit at a town clerk's office where an affidavit must be signed stating the fox was killed in Greene County.

Payment will be forwarded from the Greene County treasurer's office.

The method of submitting proof of a bobcat kill was not outlined by Ruf, however it was assumed that the whole animal must be brought in.

Ulster County pays a $3 bounty for gray fox, $2 for reds and $5 for bobcats. The head of a dead fox killed in Ulster County is submitted for proof of a kill and the ears are clipped.

Members of Saugerties Fish and Game Club whose territory borders on Greene County hailed the new bounty system as a good thing for northern Ulster County which has been plagued by foxes reportedly coming from the neighboring county where predatory control has been admittedly poor.

Durham's Supervisor Hill reported at a recent meeting that the trapping system was not working satisfactorily. He cited that about four foxes were trapped this year at a cost of about $150 each, based on the annual fee rate.

Katsbaan Fattens Dart League Lead

Katsbaan added a game to its lead in Saugerties Dartball League Monday night by crushing West Camp 2 to 1 while second place Glasco C dropped two games to Cementon.

Centerville strengthened its hold on third place by blanking the Glasco firemen 3 to 0. Quarryville also moved into contention by sweeping Ruby 3 to 0.

Other scores: Cedar Grove, 2; Trinity, 1; American Legion, 2; Service Center B's 1; Veteran, 3; Mt. Marion, 0; Centerville Fire Company, 3; Service Center A's 0.

Postpone Adult Electronics Class

Due to non-arrival of necessary equipment and to the lack of special wiring needed in the physics laboratory of the new high school, the electronics course offered by Saugerties Central Schools Adult Education program cannot begin until the second semester.

Registrations of those who registered previously for the course will be retained until then. Additional advance registrations will be accepted at any time by the assistant adult education director, Miss A. Frances Larned.

The electronics course to be taught by Roy Ohno, physics instructor of Saugerties High School, will include the following topics:

Review of series and parallel circuits, induced electromotive force, alternating current theory, inductance, capacitance, resonant circuits, the diode, the triode, the tetrode, the pentode, continuous wave oscillators, transistor theory, and the radio receiver. A knowledge of elementary algebra is a prerequisite for the course.

Youth Council Meets

Saugerties Youth Council meets Wednesday at 7:30 p. m. in Saugerties village trustees' rooms in the municipal building.

Need Girls for Morale

LONDON (AP)—An urgent appeal went out today for 500 pretty girls to bolster morale among British troops in rebel-torn Cyprus.

The girls will work as waitresses in British army canteens following the sacking Monday of Greek Cypriot staff as bad security risks.

Controlling Purposes Are Listed For Elementary Schools by State

Listed by the State Education Department as "controlling purposes" in elementary education are the following:

1. To maintain and strengthen the American heritage — "one nation under God, with liberty and justice for all."
2. To protect American democracy from despotism of whatever form — Communism, Fascism or Nazism.
3. To develop healthy, strong and competent citizens.
4. To teach children the basic skills of reading, writing and arithmetic.
5. To build moral and spiritual values.
6. To foster and encourage the spirit of progress, enterprise and scientific inquiry.
7. To promote production and appreciation in the arts and humanities.
8. To work with the home, the church and all other worthy community agencies, to achieve these goals.

Wins Esteem of Colleagues

Supervisor of elementary education in the Kingston public school system is Mrs. Marian Gregory, a very charming lady who has won the highest esteem of her colleagues and the local board of education during her six years in the job.

Planning the elementary school curriculum is a cooperative venture in which, under the watchful eyes of Mrs. Gregory and local school officials, it is continually evolving to meet new problems in living and education.

The blondish, hazel-eyed woman who heads the local elementary program points out that general plans of the State Education Department form the basis for the public school curriculum.

Freedom on Decisions

Within this general plan, however, the local system has considerable independence in making decisions dictated by its own situation and experience.

A new idea, initiated by the superintendent of schools or a school principal or by Mrs. Gregory herself, is referred to a special committee of teachers, principals and departmental supervisors who study it and make recommendations. If it is approved by Mrs. Gregory it is then submitted for final consideration to the elementary school cabinet consisting of the superintendent of schools, assistant superintendent, school principals and Mrs. Gregory. This cabinet meets twice weekly. The cabinet may approve or reject the recommendation.

Teachers Hold Discussions

There are two meetings of teachers in each grade annually at which time teachers are invited to criticize and discuss their programs.

Mrs. Gregory points out that nothing is left to "happenstance" in planning the very best program for boys and girls, calling attention to the fact that elementary school forms the background for all other learning.

Mrs. Gregory said that Kingston teachers are "well-equipped" and that she "couldn't ask a better school system with which to work—from the board to the custodians."

Conscious of Challenge

She thoroughly enjoys working with teachers in the classrooms and is conscious of a challenge to work out ever better materials and programs to assist teachers in the effective presentation of subject matter.

Nor does the curriculum slight the less tangible values—heritage, service, good mental health, spiritual values, appreciation of the arts, a spirit of progress and inquiry, etc.

Mrs. Gregory, a native of the Middle West, took her BS degree in education at Albany State Teachers College, her MA at New Paltz State Teachers College and has done graduate work at Cortland State Teachers College and New York University.

She taught in Westchester County schools for some years prior to coming to this county where she was a member of the faculty in Clintondale.

She is supervisor of the K-6 program, including MJM (junior high school).

Mrs. Gregory has two children, a daughter, Ann, at New Paltz Central High School, and a son, Harvey, at the Campus School, New Paltz.

NEWEST PUBLIC SCHOOL—The handsome George Washington School at 67 Wall Street is the newest of the city public schools. Its cornerstone was laid in the fall of 1950 and classes commenced Jan. 28, 1952. Formal opening was April 22, 1952. It serves 841 pupils this year with 33 teachers and 26 classrooms, offering kindergarten through the seventh grade. The principal, A. J. Boyd, and seven teachers have been with the school since it opened: Mrs. Lillian Tongue, Miss Elizabeth Elmendorf, Miss Lena Elmendorf, Mrs. Maude Bunting, Miss Evelyn Gerber, Mrs. Lena Dumond and Miss Sadie Feldman. The janitor, Joseph Ahl, and the cook, Mrs. Florence Fennelly, have also been with the school since it opened for classes. The school facilities are used frequently by the community. It also provides facilities to New Paltz State Teachers College for in-service courses to teachers and is one of the polling places during elections. It publishes its own newspaper, "The Cherry Tree" produces an annual Christmas program and holds an annual hobby show of arts and crafts of the pupils. Henry Halterman is president of the Parent-Teacher Association; N. Jansen Fowler is vice-president, Mrs. William Darling, treasurer, Mrs. Fred Van Deusen, recording secretary, and Mrs. Gerard Hawkins, corresponding secretary. (Freeman Photo).

OLDEST SCHOOL IN CITY—School No. 4 on Lindsley Avenue, serving the Fifth Ward and part of the Fourth Ward, is reported to be the oldest public school building in the city of Kingston, having been located on this site since 1853. The present school was built in 1868 with an addition in 1898. Principal R. H. Van Valkenburgh reports that the school at that time was considered a model and "one of the finest in Ulster county." It is constructed of solid concrete a foot thick obtained from the nearby Newark Lime and Cement Co. The school was a two-year academy for a few years at the close of the century. The school (kindergarten through sixth grade, including one special class) has a staff of nine teachers working with 220 pupils in 10 classrooms. It has a Glee Club, softball and basketball teams and a collection of Indian artifacts. Mrs. Herbert H. Rougier is president of the Parent-Teachers Association, Frank Adams, vice-president, Mrs. Frank Adams, secretary, and Mrs. John VanSteenburgh, treasurer. (Freeman Photo)

Delayed Delivery

LINCOLN, Neb. (AP) — It took 31 years for a letter mailed in Omaha to reach Lincoln, 60 miles away. When first mailed, the letter needed only two cents postage. By the time it was delivered, the rate had climbed to four cents. The letter from James M. Johnson, mailed in 1927, was addressed to George G. Zellers, then an employee of the Nebraska Supreme Court. After it turned up at the statehouse recently, the letter was forwarded to Zellers at Columbus, Neb., where he now is a district court reporter.

Electricity Rates Go Up in Endicott Village

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP) — The Public Service Commission authorized the Endicott Municipal Light Dept. today to increase electricity rates by about $18,950 a year, effective Thursday.

The increase to residential customers will average 11.5 per cent and to commercial users 4.7 per cent. The department serves about 2,200 customers.

In applying for higher rates, the village said it needed more income to offset increased costs of operating the light department, primarily because of employe pay raises granted earlier this year.

Freight Jumps Track, Blocks Line Six Hours

ROCHESTER, N. Y. (AP) — Five freight cars jumped the tracks and blocked part of the New York Central Railroad's main line for about six hours Monday.

The cars, part of a 124-car east-bound freight, piled up at Chili Junction, just west of Rochester. No one was injured. Officials blamed a faulty coupler.

Three of the four tracks were blocked. Trains were routed over the fourth track until the other three were cleared.

Catskill Corps Wins Final Meet; Cadets, Fourth

Colonial Cadets, junior corps of the Colonial Cavaliers of Port Ewen finished fourth behind Catskill Boys' Club, Coeyman's Junior Drum Corps and Coxsackie American Legion Corps in the final meet of the Capital District Junior Drum Corps Council competition Sunday at Coxsackie.

Catskill Boys' Club won with 94.3; the Coeymanns placed with 94.2 and the Coxsackie Legionnaires came in third with 93.7. The cadets garnered only 91.9.

Also competing were Troy Boys' Club, 91.4; Coxsackie Girls Junior Drum Corps, the host corps, 90.7.

The cadets with four wins in the fall competition and one second are assured the season title and council trophy.

Catskill Boys' Club and the Coeymanns each have one win.

The council meets in Catskill Sunday, Nov. 23 for election of officers and to make arrangements for a social function which will provide an opportunity to make the trophy presentation.

Junior League Hears Economics Professor

DR. MARGARET MYERS

The Junior League of Kingston held a luncheon-meeting on Monday, Nov. 3 at the Governor Clinton Hotel and Dr. Margaret Myers, professor of economics at Vassar College was guest speaker.

Dr. Myers said in her address that women need to be well informed on three levels of government—local, state and national.

Receiving her AB degree at Barnard College and MA and PhD degrees from Columbia University, Dr. Myers did further graduate work in economics at the Faculté de Droit of the University of Paris in 1931-1932 and at the University of Vienna in 1933. Before coming to Vassar in 1934, Dr. Myers had been a statistician in the Department of Reports of the Federal Reserve Bank of New York, director of research in the East Harlem Nursing and Health Service, and research consultant for the Council of Research in the Social Sciences of Columbia University and for the 20th Century Fund. Since 1946 she has held the rank of full professor of economics at Vassar.

A member of the American Economics Association, the American Finance Association and the American Statistical Association, Dr. Myers has also taught courses in economics and banking for the Poughkeepsie chapter of the American Institute of Banking. She is the author of a number of books and articles on economics and banking in which she has described banking conditions in the United States, France and Mexico. Dr. Myers wrote the chapter dealing with Mexico in Foreign Banking, published in 1954 by the Columbia University Press.

Dr. Myers was president of the Poughkeepsie League of Women Voters, 1953-1955 and is a general member and Director of the New York State Citizens Committee for the Public Schools. In 1956 she served as one of the three public members of the New York State Minimum Wage Commission for the Retail Industry.

Dr. Myers spent b-Term of 1957 in Australia studying the nationalization of its banking system. During the business meeting, it was announced that husbands of members and guests will be invited to the December 1 meeting at the Governor Clinton Hotel. The program will be a short play presented by members of Coach House Players.

Barbara Haggerty Weds John Janakis Jr.
In Double Ring Ceremony at St. Mary's

Miss Barbara Haggerty, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm Haggerty of 393 East Chester Street was united in marriage at a double ring ceremony to John Janakis Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. John Janakis of 62 Linderman Avenue on Saturday, Nov. 1 at St. Mary's Church.

The Rev. Francis X. Toner officiated. Theodore Riccobono was at the organ. Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a white Alencon lace gown fashioned with a fitted bodice, Sabrina neckline, scalloped long sleeves ending in points over the wrists and a full hooped skirt of marquisette and lace in floor length. Her French silk illusion veil fell from a cap of matching lace. She carried white pompons and roses on a prayer book.

Miss Patricia Scoggin of Brooklyn, served as maid of honor. She was attired in a yellow ballerina length gown. Bridesmaids included Joan and Alice Tuznadel, cousins of the bride. Junior bridesmaid was Marilyn Haggerty, sister of the bride. They were attired in orchid, yellow and mint green ballerina length gowns. They all carried nosegays of yellow and white pompons.

George Krayem, cousin of the bridegroom, was best man. Ushers included Frank Sottile, of Kingston and Richard Haggerty, the bride's brother. A reception was given at

A STRANGER SOLICITING PLEDGES

Dear Mrs. Post: The other day a woman representative of our church (a complete stranger to me) called at our house soliciting pledges for a new school building fund. I talked with her for about ten minutes at the door. When she left I returned to the living room where my husband was seated. When he asked me who it was I told him and he proceeded to tell me how discourteous I was for not asking her into the house. Was this necessary under the circumstances, and can I be considered rude for not asking her to come in?

Answer: You were not rude in not inviting a complete stranger into your living room.

Wedding Details

Dear Mrs. Post: My daughter is going to be married soon and the groom, best man and ushers are going to wear blue suits. My daughter insists that her father has to wear a blue suit too. My husband would never wear a blue suit after the wedding and I feel it is just one more extra expense to get something which will not again be worn. Would not a dark gray suit be acceptable for him? Also, it is always necessary to have a wine to toast the bride and groom at the reception, or would it be permissible to use a fruit juice?

Answer: He may wear a dark gray suit. I doubt that in the light of the church, it will be noticed that his suit is gray. I would suggest ginger ale for the

What's for Supper

Judging by the number of packaged macaroni, spaghetti and noodles sold in the markets today, this country certainly likes them!

Did you know that there are at least 150 varieties? The difference in mostly a matter of shape, that's all. All of them (spaghetti, noodles, lasagne and ziti, etc.) are members of the macaroni family. They are made of water and a particular kind of wheat flour. Noodles have eggs added. Macaroni dough is forced through special machines to form its many decorative shapes. Noodle dough is rolled into thin sheets and cut into strips.

People on a diet, of course, are warned about the calorie content of macaroni. But the manufacturer is two jumps ahead of the dieter in that they have already put on the market a new type of macaroni. Its features include reduced calorie value, wheat germ flour and vegetable flavorings.

When you shop, do you know the names of the different macaroni or do you, (as I do) buy according to the shape of the popular kinds? I thought it might be interesting to list a few of the types most commonly used.

Elbow Macaroni — usually served with cheese in a casserole. It can also be used with sauces, in salads (tuna or salmon).

Shells — ideal with seafood sauces or combined with peas or broccoli.

Lasagne — broad, flat macaroni — used mostly in the popular Italian meat and cheese dish of same name.

Ziti — nothing more than macaroni cut in lengths. Used for casseroles or with most sauces.

Mezzani rigati — cut, grooved macaroni. Good with tomato sauce. Mostaccioli, rigati are grooved macaroni cut on the diagonal. Bake with tomato sauce although may be served with most sauces.

Rigatoni — large grooved macaroni. These may be stuffed with meat or cheese and baked with sauce. Also easy to stuff with meat or cheese is Tufoli, an extra large macaroni.

Ditali — short lengths of macaroni. They're especially good in salads.

Creste di Gallo — macaroni shaped like a cockscomb. Ideal for serving with any sauce as the shape holds gravy very well.

Ricini — macaroni with a curl shape. Very good with most sauces.

Gnocchi — dumpling-shaped macaroni used very often in soups.

Pastina — consists of tiny macaroni pieces, sometimes star-shaped; often comes in vegetable flavors. Used in soups, soft-diet dishes. Even babies love this!

Spaghetti — here you have spaghetti (thin), Vermicelli (extra thin), Linguine (flat) and cut spaghetti with elbow shape.

Fusilli — spindellike spaghetti. They're good with sauces, particularly tomato.

Noodles — fine egg noodles, used for clear soups; folded medium egg noodles, delicious with any sauce or just buttered and sprinkled with parsley or chives; folded wide egg noodles is nice with poppy or caraway seeds, sauerbraten, pot roast, curries and stews.

Egg Noodles — ribbonlike lengths and they come in three widths, fine, medium, and wide. They may be vegetable flavored with spinach, carrots or tomatoes.

Bows — egg noodle product, shaped like bow ties or butterflies. Good topped with cheese, meat, vegetable, or seafood sauce.

Two sizes, large and small. These may be used in casseroles, salads with vegetables.

These, of course, are just a few of the many types available to the homemaker. But any of these, coupled with meat and a large tossed salad make for a very good, easy to prepare, meal.

Hadassah to Honor 'Secret' Guest at Youth Aliyah Dinner

An outstanding member of the Kingston Chapter of Hadassah will be honored in a special program Monday, Dec. 1, at the organization's Youth Aliyah dinner.

The subject, whose identity will be kept secret until the presentation will be the star of a "This Is Your Life" show, written by Mrs. Melvin Navy and Mrs. Jack Smolen. Narrating the account of the subject's activities in Hadassah through the years will be her co-workers in many projects.

The supper, scheduled for the social hall of Congregation Agudas Achim, will climax the Youth Aliyah drive now in progress. All contributors to the campaign will be guests of Hadassah at the event.

Donations to the drive, which finances the rescue of Jewish youth and their resettlement in Israel, may be sent to Mrs. Harry Feldman, 104 Wall Street. Reservations for the dinner may be made with Mrs. Irwin Gellen or Mrs. Walter Helmich.

Mrs. Murray J. Fletcher, president of the Kingston Chapter of Hadassah, will greet the guests; a summary of the campaign's progress will be given by Mrs. George B. Starkman, Youth Aliyah chairman. Mrs. Manuel B. Lipton will report on the national Hadassah convention held last month in Miami Beach, Fla.

Mrs. Nathaniel B. Gross is chairman of the dinner, with Mrs. Morris Berman in charge of the kitchen and Mrs. Sidney Treinkman handling dining-room arrangements.

Since its inception 25 years ago, Youth Aliyah has resettled more than 85,000 young people in Israel; currently in training are 15,000 youngsters, ages 13 to 16, in 248 Youth Aliyah villages, agricultural settlements, centers and special schools.

In addition to the $2 million which Hadassah budgets annually for Youth Aliyah, this year's drive will also include raising an additional $300,000 for the construction of 12 Anne Frank Havens, which will house children ages seven to twelve. The centers, built by Hadassah as a gift to Youth Aliyah, will include a dormitory for 40 youngsters in addition to classroom and recreational areas. Six of the havens are now under construction; work on the others will begin next year.

New Paltz Guild Has Open House and Tea

An open house and tea held at St. Joseph's School, New Paltz, Sunday afternoon was reported to be a success. Held in conjunction with American Education Week, Nov. 9 through 14, the affair afforded the opportunity for many parents to become reacquainted with school activities.

Mrs. Raymond Burch and Mrs. Edward Tasker headed the committee in charge of arrangements. At the tea, the Mesdames John Schreiber, Charles Bender, Patrick Riley, John Delany, James Moran and John Powers poured.

At the regular meeting of St. Joseph's Guild Wednesday, Nov. 19, 8 p. m. at St. Joseph's Center, New Paltz, Miss Ann Yedowitz of Yonkers will be guest speaker. Her subject will be Liturgical arts in relation to the forthcoming activities of Advent.

Sisterhood Changes Date of Dinner

The membership supper of Sisterhood Agudas Achim will be held on Wednesday, Dec. 10 at 7 p. m. in the Vestry Hall instead of the date previously announced.

The change was made in order that members could attend various programs planned during Education Week.

A regular meeting of the group will be held on Wednesday, 8:45 p. m. It will be game night. Refreshments will be served.

Kramer - Kirschner Nuptials Announced; Ceremony Takes Place on October 26

Miss Amelia Paula Kramer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred S. Kramer of Beacon, was united in marriage with Lewis Carl Kirschner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Julius Kirschner of 40 Elmendorf Street, in a double ring ceremony which took place on October 26 at 2 p. m. at Congregation Ahavath Israel.

Rabbi Jacob Rubenstein officiated at the double ring ceremony.

Joseph Vigna was organist and Henry Levy, soloist. The flower theme used for the wedding included baskets of yellow and white pompons and chrysanthemums. The pews were marked with white satin bows.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a white silk peau de soie with court train. Her tiara of white seed pearls held a three quarter length veil of nylon illusion. She carried a bouquet of stephanotis centered with a white orchid and tiny leaves.

The bride was attended by Miss Claire Kirschner, sister of the bridegroom, who wore a coral velvet sheath with peau de soie trim. She carried a waterfall cascade bouquet of pink roses.

Miss Joan Liebmann, junior bridesmaid, wore a coral velvet with peau de soie bows and carried a miniature bouquet of pink pompons. Bridesmaids, Miss Marilyn Black and Miss Ina Bonnerwith, wore turquoise brocade sheaths with full drapes. They carried waterfall cascades of yellow pompons.

Miss Susan Liebmann served as flower girl. She was dressed identically as the junior bridesmaid and carried a princess basket of pink and white pompons with rose petals. Her headpiece consisted of pink and white pompons.

Herbert Kirschner, brother of the bridegroom, served as best man. Ushers included Carl Lipson, Louis Black, Alan Black, Steven Kirschner, Herman Kramer and Herman Perlowin.

A cocktail party was given in the vestry hall for more than 250 guests. A dinner reception was given at the Governor Clinton Hotel immediately afterwards.

The bride, who attended the University of Bridgeport and Hillyer College, is a secretary of the Young-Audit Group in Poughkeepsie and secretary of Young Democratic Club of Dutchess County. Her husband attended New Paltz State Teachers College and was graduated from the Albany Business Col-

NFA to Play At Poughkeepsie In Top Contest

BY ED PALLADINO

Freeman Sports Staff

Bruised and battered after what Coach Bill Burke said is one of the toughest lines his teams have ever faced, Kingston High school gridders journey to Middletown Saturday for what appears to be a breather. The unbeaten, once-tied Maroon will face the Middies in one of the two DUSO League attractions on Saturday's card.

In the big game of the day, Newburgh Free Academy, unbeaten and untied in six outings, faces its toughest foe to date with a gigantic clash at Poughkeepsie against Sam Kalloch's Pioneers. The Goldbacks are slight favorites to upend the Bridge City boys, but it could be a dogfight.

One other important attraction is on Saturday's skim slate, Highland, seeking a second straight Dutchess County Scholastic Football title, will play at Beacon and needs either a win or a tie to snare honors.

Though all indications point to a relatively easy triumph for Kingston, Coach Burke will have his boys geared for another bruising battle. The Middies are having another one of their lackluster seasons. In six games they have scored only four touchdowns and have been shut out three times. Yet, Coach John Whitehead has had two weeks to prepare a defense and some sort of an offense to battle Kingston with. At last report, the Middies are at top strength and the Maroon can expect anything.

190 Pound Average

That Kingston is also in good shape might be classified as a miracle. Mont Pleasant didn't bring much of an offense to Kingston, but its line was a different matter. From end to end, Pleasant averaged 190 pounds up front. Since Kingston's heaviest lineman tips the scales at only 183 pounds, you can see what the club was up against.

The Maroon found out early that running off tackle, through guard or up the middle was all but a hopeless task. Quarterback Jerry McDonough didn't have much luck with his passes because the Mont Pleasant ends were crashing. So the club played a waiting game, forced the upstart into two costly mistakes and ended up on the winning ledger.

One thing Burke will have to watch this week is that his players don't get overconfident about playing a winless club. Middletown has looked bad. There is no getting away from that. But the club was green at the start and over the past few weeks, has been playing a better brand of football. And, as has been found out on several occasions, anything can happen in a game.

Hobie Armstrong, who wrenched his knee Saturday in the third period, is expected to be at full strength. He sat out the last two periods, but only because the knee stiffened. Except for a few bumps and bruises received from the ponderous upstarters, the locals are in good shape.

Goldbacks on Spot

Newburgh is on the spot in its clash with Poughkeepsie. The Pioneers aren't as bad as they looked at Kingston. There are reports the Goldbacks are not as good as their perfect record. They haven't played a difficult schedule and with the exception of Port Chester, all the NFA foes have had more losses than victories.

Poughkeepsie has dropped only the Kingston encounter and has rolled over four other foes. Against common opponents, Newburgh beat Port Jervis, 26-7, Middletown, 28-0, Linton, 41-20 and Beacon, 20-0. The Pioneers were hard pressed to beat the Porters, 20-19, trounced Linton, 26-0, slaughtered Middletown, 33-0, and nipped Beacon, 19-6. If the schools are compared by common opponents, the tilt rates as a tossup. Observers are pegging the Goldbacks as slight favorites.

Highland will be seeking its sixth win in seven outings. The club bowed to rugged Fox Lane of Mt. Kisco, but has handled its other foes. Bob Relyea's gridders have not lost a league contest in two seasons but Beacon should prove a severe test. The Southern Dutchess club has lost four tilts, all against good clubs.

Newburgh beat Beacon, 20-0, Poughkeepsie won a 19-6 encounter and powerful Peelskik eked out a 19-14 decision. Wappingers Falls scored a 13-12 upset against their arch rivals.

This week will mark the close of scholastic football except for the traditional Thanksgiving day battles between Kingston and Newburgh and Middletown and Port Jervis.

Lake Katrine Club To Plan Xmas Party

Plans for the annual Christmas party will be made by members of the Lake Katrine Rod and Gun club, incorporated at their meeting tonight.

A movie, "Billfish Safari," will be shown. It comes from the McClellan Steel corporation. A nominating committee will be named for next month's election.

Regular pheasant shoots for the club will take place Sunday, November 16 and 30. November 23 is skipped because it is in deer season.

Others nominated included Bob Yates, Syracuse end; Herman Wyld, Cortland tackle; Top Stephens, Syracuse halfback; Chip Nassor, Union fullback; and Jack Radzavica, Cortland fullback.

Battered Giants Only Four Points Over Pitt Steelers

By SHELDON SAKOWITZ

Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — The battered New York Giants took in their grueling victory over the Baltimore Colts last Sunday may have an effect on their game against the Steelers in Pittsburgh this weekend.

Linemen Jack Stroud and Roosevelt Brown and halfback Alex Webster were listed among the injured today with their availability against Pittsburgh questionable. As a result, the Giants are only a four-point favorite to defeat the Steelers.

Stroud, a guard who had been sidelined for several weeks, injured his right knee and definitely will be out of action. Originally, he was sidelined with a strained left knee.

Fractured Cheekbone

Brown suffered a fractured right cheekbone and was resting at a hospital. Although the break is not serious, the big tackle will be hospitalized for several days.

Webster was in bed at home with a bruised right knee and a swollen right ankle that he said was "in pretty bad shape."

Fullback Mel Triplett suffered a slight head concussion and was forced to the sidelines in the second half. The injury, however, is not serious and he is expected to be ready.

In Pittsburgh, it was disclosed that guard John Nisby of the Steelers suffered a rib tear in last Sunday's triumph over Philadelphia. He plans to work out lightly to determine whether he is fit to play Sunday.

Bowling Board To Pay Respects

Members of the executive board of the Kingston Bowling Association are requested to meet to-night at 7:30 o'clock at the YMCA.

From there they will proceed to the Sweet and Keyser Funeral Home, 167 Tremper Avenue, to pay respects to Mrs. Grace Kellerman Petersen, Mrs. Petersen was the wife of Larry Petersen, secretary-treasurer of the KBA.

Use Comfortable Grip

Fifth of an instructional series written for NEA Service and The Kingston Daily Freeman by champions.

BY PAT PATTERSON

Budweiser Team Captain

The three most common grips are the conventional, the semi-fingertip and the full-fingertip.

For the novice and once-a-week bowlers, the conventional grip is recommended. The fingers are placed in the holes fully up to the second joint.

This gives you a natural, balanced feeling in the ball and serves as a fine introductory grip.

In a semi-fingertip, the fingers go up to between the first and second joints and in the full-fingertip, only the fingertips go into the holes.

These two types are favored by most of the top name bowlers because they impart more spin. They are used only after many years of constant practice and experimenting, require very strong fingers to execute, and are extremely difficult to control.

So, stay with the conventional grip until you have fully mastered the fundamentals and can experiment with fingertip grips and other variations.

Select the grip most comfortable for you.

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — It may become hopelessly muddled later, but at the moment the Pacific Coast Conference picture shows California clearly leading the race to the Rose Bowl.

The Bears, with a 4-1 mark, are the only PCC football squad having just one conference loss. Three other schools each have two defeats but they have an outside chance.

California is the favorite, despite the reluctance of Bear Coach Pete Elliott to accept the role. He's worried about this Saturday's contest with Washington.

Washington meets the Bears in Seattle, but California is favored. If Cal goes according to form and tops the Huskies, it looks as if the Bears will meet Iowa in Pasadena New Year's Day.

After Washington, Cal takes on Stanford in the season closer.

Rough Going

California's three challengers, Washington State, Oregon State and Southern California, have rough going to overtake the Bears.

WCS, with a 5-2 record, has one conference game left. The Cougars meet Washington neutral ground to end their PCC season. Should they win as expected and Cal lose one or both its closers, the Cougars will have a shot at the roses.

Oregon State, 4-2, must face Stanford at Palo Alto and Oregon at Oregon's home in Corvallis. State should be favored in both contests.

Slight Chance

A Cal loss to either Washington or Stanford or both, combined with two Oregon State victories would give the Beavers a chance.

Southern Cal has just one PCC game left, its traditional contest with cross-town UCLA. USC should be favored.

The Trojans will pack a 4-2 PCC mark into the UCLA game and one or two California losses plus an SC victory can give the Trojans a chance to see Pasadena.

Basketball Players Wanted at St. Mary's

Boys, between 14 and 18 years of age, who are interested in playing basketball for St. Mary's Church, should get in touch with Vincent P. DeLuca at FE 1-5151.

Football Briefs

ITHACA, N. Y. (AP) — Cornell today stepped up drills in its drive to regain exclusive possession of first place in the Ivy League.

The Big Red held light contact drills Monday as it opened training for its Saturday meeting here with Dartmouth.

Cornell, Dartmouth and Princeton are deadlocked for first place in the league. Cornell had been on top alone but a 12-8 loss to Brown Saturday brought on the tie.

Right guard Dave Feeney of Trenton, N. J., who suffered a hip bruise in the Brown game, has been sidelined but is expected to play Saturday.

HAMILTON, N. Y. (AP) — Sophomore Herman Baruch, a leading ground gainer for Colgate Saturday, will start at right halfback for the team against Syracuse this weekend.

Baruch, of Buffalo, gained 34 yards in six carries as Colgate fell to Holy Cross, 20-0.

Coach Fred Rice named him Monday to replace senior Doug Ammon of Mineral Wells, Tex. in Saturday's game at Syracuse.

SYRACUSE, N. Y. (AP) — The Syracuse University football powerhouse will be at full strength Saturday against visiting Colgate. Coach Ben Schwartzwalder reports.

Fullbacks Ernie Jackson and Ed Kieffer, who have been out with leg injuries, will be back in action.

Schwartzwalder put the team through a stiff drill Monday. Syracuse is ranked second in the East and Colgate is having one of its worst seasons ever but the Orange coach said he did not take Saturday's game lightly.

Comets Beat Zips

The Comets nipped the Zips, 1-0, to move into a first place tie with the losers in the Kingston YMCA Floor Hockey league. In the other contest the Rockets scored a 4-2 win over the Jets.

The Comets and Zips have 3-2 marks and the Rockets and Jets trail the field with 2-3 records.

PICK ONE.—Start with conventional grip, top. The semi-fingertip, middle, and full-fingertip, bottom, are used only after years of practice.

Ripper Cagers Nip 'Y' Juniors

The YMCA juniors dropped their second game in six starts yesterday as the Ripper Five won a 59-58 thriller in the "Y" basketball league.

Trailing by seven points with a little more than a minute to play, the losers cut the deficit to a single marker but time ran out before they had a chance to win the contest.

Jack Lewis led the losers with 24 points. Tom Fiero had 22 points for the Ripper Five and LeRoy Hatcher and Frank Allen made 16 each.

Scores of Sports Personalities Attend Tiano Testimonial Dinner

By ED PALLADINO
Freeman Sports Staff

They paid tribute to Charley last night. Men and women from all walks of life, more than 400 of them, jammed the Governor Clinton Hotel to honor Freeman Sports Editor Charles J. Tiano. They helped him celebrate his 25th anniversary as a sports writer and he will never forget the night as long as he lives.

Bowlers, golfers, coaches, writers—they were all there. His first boss, Nate Markson, paid his respects. Kingston Mayor Radel said hello on behalf of the city. Charley's old friends on the news beat, his present friends on the news beat. They were there too.

United States, Italy Seen As Threats in Next Olympics

By ED CORRIGAN

Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — The West Germans—on the record the greatest international horsemen in the world—today tabbed the United States and Italy as their big threats in the 1960 Olympics.

"And," said Fritz Thiedemann, "I think your mount, Ksar d'Esprit, is among the finest in the world. He was going in over 7 feet in Europe last spring and no one can ask for any more than that."

The National Horse Show ends tonight and it's going to be a tight race for international team honors. The U. S. has won five events to four—all in a row—for the West Germans and two for Canada.

The West Germans won both of Monday's events and at the rate they're going, things look black, indeed, for their opponents. They are great horsemen but have had trouble getting their mounts accustomed to the tight turns in Madison Square Garden.

Skipper's Fate, owned by the Shawnee Farms of Harrodsburg, Ky., is the conformation hunter champion with the compliments of Waiting Home, belonging to Peggy Augustus of Coghlan, Va.

Waiting Home won the first three events, but didn't manage to score so much as a point in the remainder of the tests in the division. Skipper's Fate got a third in the conformation hunter stake Monday. That was worth two points and a total of 13 to 12½ for Waiting Home.

Snowman owned by Harry De Leyer of St. James, N. Y., won the jumper event to pull within one point of First Chance, belonging to the Oak Ridge Farms of Pittsford, N. Y., who is leading with 21 points.

Tigers Hold Lead In Junior Olympics

Teams entered in the Kingston YMCA Junior Olympics have reached the halfway mark and the Tigers have a commanding lead with 613 points. Sioux trails in second place with 510 points, followed by the Thunderbirds, Jacquars, Apaches and Lions.

MacPhail Hopes To Make Birds A Contender Soon

BALTIMORE (AP) — The new boss of the Baltimore Orioles isn't going to jump in and try to make a pennant-contender of the sixth-place American League club.

"We must be realistic about this," General Manager Lee MacPhail told a news conference. "The club is not ready to make the big move now."

MacPhail said "Baltimore has made a fine start" toward building a club since transfer of the St. Louis Browns' franchise here after the 1953 season. But Baltimore, he said, "will have to struggle for a couple of years" before becoming a top-flight team.

The Orioles staged the news conference Monday so MacPhail could meet the press. The 41-year-old son of former New York Yankee owner Larry MacPhail has been director of player personnel for the Yanks. He said he planned to come here at the end of November and would move his family to Baltimore after the first of the year.

The job pays $35,000 a year and carries a three-year contract.

Cadets Turned The Heat High

NEW YORK (AP) — Army trained for last weekend's game with Rice at Houston by working out in the West Point field house with the heat turned up.

It was a one-day gimmick used by Coach Red Blaik, who felt his Cadets might be jolted by the heat on their first invasion of the Southwest.

"The temperature was 91 on the field," Assistant Coach Barney Gill reported. The Cadets won 14-7.

Arizin Gets Hot In NBA Scoring

NEW YORK (AP) — Pitchin' Paul Arizin, a two-time National Basketball Assn. scoring champion, spurted during the past week to move into second place behind defending titlist George Yardley of the Detroit Pistons.

The jump-shooting specialist of the Philadelphia Warriors advanced from eighth with 92 points in three games. This boosted Arizin's season output to 190 points in seven games. He ranks sixth among the all-time NBA scorers.

According to figures released today by league headquarters, Yardley still leads with 216 points in nine games. Gene Shue of Detroit, who collected a season's high of 45 against Boston Sunday, is third with 178. Rookie Elgin Baylor of Minneapolis holds fourth with 177.

Bob Pettit of the St. Louis Hawks, runner-up a week ago, played only one game and fell to fifth with 175 points in six games. His 29.2 average is tops followed by Arizin's 27.1 points per game mark.

Kenny Sears of the New York Knicks connected on 64 per cent of his field goal tries in his last three games to take over the lead as the most accurate marksman. He boasts a season's mark of .562.

Sam Jones of the Boston Celtics, hitting 16 of 17 free throw tosses retains his supremacy in that department with a .941 average. Teammate Bill Russell has snared the most rebounds, 130, and the Pistons' Dick McGuire leads in assists with 68.

Seven Schools May Get Bowl Offer

DALLAS (AP) — Seven schools are on the list from which the Cotton Bowl expects to pick its visiting team but which is the hottest prospect isn't being revealed.

Mississippi, Air Force Academy, Pittsburgh, Syracuse, North Carolina, Army and Louisiana State are on the list, Army is doubtful since Rice may win the Southwest Conference championship and West Point never has indicated it would accept a bowl bid anyway.

The Southwest Conference champion is host team in the Cotton Bowl.

Army played Rice last week, beating the Owls 14-7.

Louisiana State's can't be called a strong possibility in view of its closeness to the Sugar Bowl.

Felix R. McKnight, chairman of the Cotton Bowl selection committee, said today some of the schools on the list already had been contacted and scouted.

LSU Holds First Spot In AP Poll

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Louisiana State, Iowa and Army still rank 1-2-3 in The Associated Press college football poll this week but two of the three face real tests in their games this Saturday.

The No. 1 Louisiana State Tigers, fresh from a 50-18 romp over Duke, tackle a Mississippi State eleven which could cause considerable trouble, and Iowa faces a frustrated Ohio State team which will try to regain a little of its lost prestige by knocking off the newly crowned Big Ten champions.

Only Army has what might be called a breather. The Cadets, who defeated Rice Saturday by virtue of a long hope pass in the final minutes, take on Villanova, which is not figured to cause too much trouble.

Only one team of the top 10 a week ago failed to be voted into that select group this week by the sportswriters and sportscasters taking part in the poll. Northwestern, losing to Wisconsin, dropped to 13th place. The Wildcats were fourth last week.

Texas Christian moved up from 11th to ninth on its 36-8 victory over Marquette.

95 Votes

Louisiana State got 95 first place votes in piling up 1,532 points this week. Iowa was a first choice of 52 voters, and its 1,441 points gave it a comfortable margin over Army, which got 999 points without a first-place vote.

The top 10 teams, with the first place votes in parentheses:

1. Louisiana State (95) ... 1,532
2. Iowa (52) ... 1,441
3. Army ... 999
4. Auburn (6) ... 976
5. Wisconsin ... 786
6. Oklahoma (3) ... 783
7. Mississippi (2) ... 535
8. Purdue ... 289
9. Texas Christian ... 287
10. Air Force ... 249

Second 10: North Carolina (2) 218; Syracuse 179; Northwestern 166; Pittsburgh 152; Southern Methodist 67; Ohio State 59; Rice 43; Florida 37; Rutgers (1) 35; Georgia Tech 19.

Yale Team Holds Full Scrimmage

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Yale may be winless this year in the Ivy League but if you hang around the practice field this week as the Eli prepare for Princeton you'd think they were going for the national championship.

Instead of the usual Monday respite, the Eli had a full-scale scrimmage with even the cripples participating. Only quarterback Tom Singleton, center Mike Pyle and end Jim Connors were on the sidelines. The first two are not expected to be ready for Princeton this Saturday and Connors is finished for the season with a shoulder injury.

Coach Jordan Oliver called it the "best Monday scrimmage I've seen the week before a Princeton game since I've been here."

The Eli are 0-5 in the Ivy League and were upended by Penn 30-6 last week.

Princeton wasn't idle by any means. The Tigers went through light drills, with senior Ray Empson filling in for second string wingback Mike Iseman. Iseman injured his knee last Saturday against Harvard.

Eisman is Princeton's biggest and fastest back, running the 100 in less than 10 seconds. He tossed the extra point conversion pass that beat Harvard 16-14.

Cornell began looking to Dartmouth in their battle Saturday for a share of first place in the league. Both are tied with Princeton with 4-1 loop records. Coach Lefty James moved soph guard Warren Sundstrom to the right guard spot to replace Dave Feeney, who injured his hip against Brown Saturday.

The Big Red also worked on defense during a light workout.

Dartmouth did its work indoors for an hour and a half. Coach Bob Blackman indicated he might have Rog Hanlon at starting left halfback in place of Bill Hibbs, and Bill Morton at right half instead of Jim Burke.

Mary Fisher, his sister; Ralph Tiano, one of the brothers; Mrs. Teresa Tiano, Charley's mother; and the guest of honor and his wife, Lisa. More than 400 persons jammed the Governor Clinton Hotel for the testimonial. (Freeman photo)

Coaches muttering about teams like Syracuse . . . which shouts defensive signals as the offensive team lines up . . . fouls up the quarterback calling the play . . . and, for instance, pulled Cornell off-side 17 (!) times in one game . . . not to mention drawing Army off-side 10 times in their pre-season scrimmage. . . . Officials have new rule to prevent it. . . .

The alleged cold-shouldering of Otto Graham by the pros didn't keep him from getting a pre-game and post-game show for the road games of his doughy mater . . . the Cleveland Browns . . .

Whipping the Browns this season gave Charley Conerly the biggest kick in his two rugged decades of football . . . not to mention a couple of kicks in the ribs (Frank Gifford had to help him out of his train berth the next morning). . . . "I swear," drawled the graying cotton-planter, "I'd have bawled if we lost that one. . . . In Cleveland, you wouldn't have thought they knew there was another team gonna play besides the Browns."

The Boston Celtics and Boston Bruins compete for patronage at the Boston Garden . . . one of the Celtic cage draws is Bill Sharman . . . and who helps entertain the hockey fans—little Jerry Sharman, brilliant player on kid teams. . . .

The man the coaches respect at Rice is end Gene Jones, who plays in the shadow of the other wing, Buddy Dial . . . they call him "Mr. Jones" . . . and not facetiously, either. . . .

For some reason, the otherwise rugged Baltimore Colts have never been able to locate a consistent punter. . . . They went into the crucial two-game set on the Pacific coast last year with two kicking candidates. Cotton Davidson and Horace Gillom (the one-time Brown booter). . . . Davidson was getting more distance in practice, so they put him on the roster . . . and he fluffed a short punt that put the Forty Niners in position to nip the Colts in the last minute . . . and cost them the title.

Being hurt has decided Frank Gifford on one aspect of his future—he doesn't want to coach after sweating out Giant games on the sideline. . . .

Being hurt has decided Frank Gifford on one aspect of his future—he doesn't want to coach after sweating out Giant games on the sideline. . . .

Between you'n'me, Pittsburgh Steeler officials have been saying all along that with any other team than the Browns, Milt Plum would be a mediocre quarterback. . . .

Know of a more hard-luck player than Gene Gibson . . . who came back from four years in service (and three children) to play football at San Jose State, where he was a brilliant fullback prospect . . . until he broke one leg in a spring game . . . broke the other leg in fall scrimmage . . . and now has suffered a third leg break in his senior season. . . .

The man the coaches respect at Rice is end Gene Jones, who plays in the shadow of the other wing, Buddy Dial . . . they call him "Mr. Jones" . . . and not facetiously, either. . . .

For some reason, the otherwise rugged Baltimore Colts have never been able to locate a consistent punter. . . . They went into the crucial two-game set on the Pacific coast last year with two kicking candidates. Cotton Davidson and Horace Gillom (the one-time Brown booter). . . . Davidson was getting more distance in practice, so they put him on the roster . . . and he fluffed a short punt that put the Forty Niners in position to nip the Colts in the last minute . . . and cost them the title.

Confident of Good Times

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sinclair Weeks is leaving his post as secretary of commerce, confident of increasing prosperity in 1959.

He also expressed hope the Eisenhower administration can present a balanced budget to Congress next year, although few remaining administration officials share that idea.

Weeks met with newsmen Monday, shortly before winding up officially his nearly six years in President Eisenhower's Cabinet. His resignation became effective at midnight. Named to succeed him is Lewis L. Strauss, former chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission.

Tillson P-TA Sets Supper December 6

TILLSON — A spaghetti supper sponsored by Tillson P-TA will be held Saturday, Dec. 6, it was decided at the meeting Thursday at the school.

The ways and means committee, in charge is headed by Mrs. Henry Mertt assisted by Mrs. Raymond Boyle, Mrs. Eugene Hoffman, Mrs. Harold Lonsdale, and Mrs. Joel Woolsey. The place will be announced.

Guest at the meeting was Dr. Herbert Dandes, psychologist from the Kingston Schools who mentioned that the curriculum for students is becoming much broader. He clarified the difference between psychiatry, the science of behavior, a psychologist who studies behavior and school psychologist who studies the behavior of school children and assists them in meeting future needs. About 20 per cent of school children are disturbed, according to Dandes. He also emphasized that parental consent is not needed in order that a child be placed in a special class.

Members present decided to send notices to parents requesting their attendance at an informational meeting prior to the formation of a Cub Scout pack. If enough are interested, a pack will be registered.

Ernst Hopper, principal, sent a thank you message to those parents who assisted in cataloguing the National Geographic.

Ray Boyle, BMI, U. S. Navy Recruiting Service and president of the P-TA reported on the attendance at the P-TA Conference in Port Ewen saying that it was stressed that the P-TA should stop being a social organization and start taking an interest in education and the needs of children.

Mrs. Gene Van Winkle's second and third graders won the October attendance award for having the greatest parent attendance at the October meeting.

To Open TB Seal Campaign On Courthouse Lawn Friday

Two little children, Peter Nicholas Fowler, age four and five-year-old Fabian LeVan Russell of Saugerties, will depict the children of the 1958 Christmas Seals during the opening event of this year's Tuberculosis and Health Association campaign, which starts Friday when thousands of Ulster County residents will receive their Christmas Seals.

The ceremony will be held on the lawn of the Ulster County Courthouse at 7:30 p. m. Peter Fowler is the son of N. Jansen Fowler, local attorney and member of the board of directors of the TB Association. He is a grandson of the late Judge Joseph M. Fowler, who served as the first president of the association now celebrating 50 years of health service for the people of Ulster County. Little Fabian Russell is the son of Robert S. Russell, chairman of the 1958 Christmas Seals sale and grand-

Attends Girl Scout Convention Held In Philadelphia

Paula Dolan, outstanding senior girl scout of Wallkill, represented the Senior Girl Scouts of the area as the official delegate of the Ulster County Council of Girl Scouts, Inc., at the national convention of the Girl Scouts of the USA during their recent convocation in Philadelphia.

While there, Paula attended the general sessions of the national convention observing Adult Scouts handling the affairs of the organization on a nationwide scale and participated in the special events geared to the interests and needs of Senior Girl Scouts throughout the United States and its territories.

Resignation May Come From Entire LR School Board

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) — What happens to a community's schools when its school board quits?

Who operates the schools? These questions face Little Rock today.

Five of the six members of the board have discussed resigning. This report was confirmed Monday by a member who declined to be identified by name.

New Salem Man Fined $100 Here As Drunk Driver

Harold Avery, 42, Route 5, Box 300, New Salem, arrested early today on a charge of driving while intoxicated after a two-car mishap at Broadway and St. James Street, was sentenced to pay a fine of $100 or spend 50 days in jail, and his license was revoked.

Esopus Legion Holds Services

Veterans Day memorial services were conducted by Town of Esopus Post 1298, American Legion and the Auxiliary 11 o'clock this morning at the World War 1 Memorial Tablet, Ulster Park.

Conducting the service were Commander K. Knute Beichert and Chaplain Chester W. Barth.

Clintondale Driver Hurt in Span Crash

Michael George Orphan, 33, of Clintondale, was treated at Vassar Bros. Hospital, Poughkeepsie, early this morning for a lacerated nose after his car smashed into a stone cliff at the western end of the Mid-Hudson bridge.

Orphan was proceeding in a westerly direction across the bridge but failed to make a right turn as he entered the highway.

Second Man Held

BUFFALO, N. Y. (AP)—A second man was charged with first-degree murder today in the hold-up slaying of a clothing store proprietor last Friday.

Walter T. Green, 34-year-old ex-convict, turned himself in at a police station early today after police armed with shotguns scoured the East Side neighborhood where he lived.

Jury Not in Session

No session of the special grand jury in attendance at the extraordinary term of Supreme Court was being held today, it was disclosed at the office of Senator Bernard Tompkins, special attorney general in charge of the Ulster County kick-back investigation.

Justice Henry Clay Greenberg, presiding justice, was out of town.

Valley Plans Are Progressing for H-C Fete in '59

Plans for the Hudson Valley phase of the Hudson-Champlain Celebration were advanced materially at a meeting of the Hudson Valley Council last night.

President Henry Noble MacCracken, president of this six-county group, presided. The meeting was held at the office of the New York State Bridge Authority in Poughkeepsie.

The Kingston and Ulster County Committees were represented by Mrs. Adam H. Porter of Kingston, Mrs. Harriet Allen Kerr of New Paltz, Harry Rigby Jr. and Albert Kurdt of Kingston. The latter serves as executive vice-president of the Hudson Valley Council.

A special committee, consisting of Dr. MacCracken, Mrs. Dolores Hazlett of Newburgh, Rigby and Kurdt were named to meet with representatives of the Dutch Government to work out arrangements for their participation.

It was decided to organize the Hudson Valley Council as an informal non-profit membership body. A membership fee of $2 was established plus a sustaining membership of $10 or more. All persons interested in promoting the Hudson Valley and the communities thereof are invited to become members. Mrs. Sally Donahugh of Beacon was elected treasurer of the Council last night.

The possibility of sponsoring a concert by the Netherlands National Salvation Army Band early next spring will also be investigated.

Dr. MacCracken will also appoint a special committee to confer with the Champlain Basin group to work out cooperative activities and mutual support of both phases of the celebration.

The next meeting of the Hudson Valley Council will be held at 8 p. m. on Dec. 1 in the Governor Clinton Hotel in Kingston. Anyone interested is cordially invited to attend and affiliate. The following meeting will be in Newburgh.

Jewish Home Will Receive National Award Saturday

Dr. Walter S. Gross, Schenectady, will accept the William J. Shroder Award for the Jewish Home for the Aged, Troy, Saturday in Washington, D. C.

The award will be presented at the annual meeting of the Council of Jewish Federations and Welfare Funds, Inc. It is a memorial tribute to the ideals of the founder and first president of the council, with the purpose of giving renewed force to the humanitarian purposes which Shroder personified, according to Dr. Gross.

The Jewish Home for the Aged, serving a 21-county area, was selected for the Shroder Award for its extension program for the elderly. The service enables the aged to participate in all of the home's activities, on the basis of residing in adjacent, approved dwellings and commuting daily.

Almost 1,000 Jewish leaders from practically every state in the country and from all parts of Canada will be on hand for the four-day conference which will deal with the major problems confronting American Jewry.

Dr. Walter S. Gross, who will accept the award, is president of the Capitol District and Daughters of Sarah Jewish Home for the Aged.

The Jewish Home for the Aged is currently conducting a capital fund campaign which will make possible the expansion of the home's facilities to care for nearly twice as many Jewish elderly as it presently serves. The area-wide campaign goal is set for $650,000.

Dutch Bazaar Will Feature Special Holiday Pastries

The Dutch Christmas Kitchen, (Hallendische Keuken) will be a feature of the Dutch Christmas Bazaar on Saturday, 10 a. m. to 10 p. m., at the Hurley Reformed Church on Route 209.

The Kitchen will open at 11:30 a. m. where light refreshments will be served afternoon and evening. In Holland this is called a Hallendische Keuken. Christmas cakes and cookies will be available. These will include Olie Koeken, Appelkoeken and Sint Nikolwas Koejes. Mrs. Edmond Bower, Mrs. Harold Davis and Mrs. Harry Gersback are in charge and will be in the kitchen to serve this varied assortment to all visitors throughout the day.

Dutch atmosphere will prevail at the Bazaar. The Misses Adele Lehtonen, Mary Jane Hasbrouck, Joanne Hopper, and Nancy Schadeewald will be dressed in authentic Dutch colonial costumes.

Mrs. Vernon Goetchius will be carrying a large bag of special treats for children. The bag will be in the shape of a large Dutch shoe. She will be assisted by Miss Nancy Schadeewald.

The bazaar will also feature gifts for Christmas giving.

There will be a spaghetti and meat ball supper at the Mt. Marion Church Hall, Thursday, Nov. 20, serving start at 6 p. m., sponsored by the Women's Guild.

About 10 per cent of employed women in U. S. are in domestic service.

QUARTET TO SING HERE—The "Sleepless Knights of Harmony" of Hartford, Conn., will be featured at annual Harmony Night 8:15 p. m. Saturday at George Washington School. The show is sponsored by the Mid-Hudson Chapter of SPEBSQSA for the benefit of the Kingston High School music scholarship fund. The Knights are known to have many hilarious numbers done in barbershop style and are expected to be a big hit. The "Bay-Statesmen" will be featured on the bill also. Tickets will be on sale at the door and may be obtained at Abram's Music Store and Russell's Record Centre, as well as from any member of the local chapter. (Bruno photo)

Open Bids Friday For Highland Job

Bid proposals on two projects at Highland for construction, repairs and alterations to state-owned facilities will be opened at the state office building, Albany, Friday at 10:30 a. m.

According to John W. Johnson, superintendent of public works, primary sewage tank and appurtenant work will be done at Highland Training School for Boys.

Also included in the project will be installation of a water filtration plant.
